

“National Socialism would rise again because it is true to cosmic reality and that which is true does not pass.”-Savitri Devi

There has been some exciting news as of late, I've become a member of the National Socialist Movement. I've had the pleasure of knowing NSM members since I attended my first rally in 2013, and marched alongside comrades from the organization and Commander Schoep since then.

In Charlottesville, Pikeville, Shelbyville, and dozens of other occasions, the NSM could be counted on to be there. For all of the naysayers and armchair generals who take swipes at the NSM, especially over selected moments from an over forty year history, I believe the steadfast dedication to community organizing and a real world presence showcases the strengths of the organization.

Many people have asked me why I simply didn't create another White Nationalist organization or join a different group. I am happy to say that there are plenty of fine organizations throughout the White Nationalist movement, but I am a National Socialist. I refuse to be anything but what I am, a dedicated follower of the principles of National Socialism.

While I could start another organization, I am reminded of the words of our National Socialist forebears who always believed in the principle of the united front and a single revolutionary party to lead our people to victory. One people, one nation, one party, and one leader.

The fasces shows us where our power lies, in one another, united as one. Instead of dividing the movement with another faction, it makes far more sense to come together with my brothers and sisters to work to strengthen and improve an existing organization, especially one like the NSM that has weathered decades of attacks by our foes but has refused to capitulate and still marches forward.

For any naysayers who have critiques of the NSM, I invite you with gusto to join us and help us take the next step forward! Sitting on the sidelines isn't an option, and you might have the necessary skills to help your comrades achieve our objectives. Don't complain and be part of the problem, become part of the solution!

I am so thankful to my many amazing comrades from the Traditionalist Worker Party who have supported me through my various trials and tribulations, we built something beautiful together that made a real impact on American politics, and now is the time for us to come together with fellow National Socialists to make our dream of a free and sovereign People's State a reality.

The NSM is a successor organization to Commander Rockwell's original organization, the first group to bring National Socialism to the American public. Under the leadership of Commander Schoep, the group has held public demonstrations from coast to coast, created community volunteer efforts such as road cleanup and direct charity to needy families, and has never wavered on being ardent National Socialists.

My mission within the organization is Community Outreach, working with our extremely talented media team and leadership across the country to organize a committee for prisoner support, more charity efforts, dialogue with communities of color on shared issues, and to work to make our message of solidarity understood by the American public. I graciously accept the position to become the Director of Community Outreach because it is an opportunity to use my skills at organizing and agitating on behalf of my extended family.

The next few months is set to be an exciting chapter for the National Socialist Movement. Already we have worked tirelessly to put together a new and exciting 25 Point Plan that brings the organizations platform into the modern era.

Our comrades are diligently at work designing a new website for the organization, our media department is designing new leaflets and banners for our activism, and we are looking at a variety of new endeavors to better engage the public.

I am but one part of this effort, working alongside the loyal comrades of the NSM and a legion of newcomers who are putting our efforts together to make the NSM not just the best National Socialist organization in America, but the best White Nationalist organization in America. This however will take all of us, coming together as one, under one flag, to continue what is succeeding and improve what needs worked on.

The NSM needs you to become part of our team, organize new chapters, help us develop new committees of public service, take the streets, and secure the existence of our people and a future for White children.

I'm happy to become a member of the National Socialist Movement, and I heartily encourage all of you to join me inside our ranks to take this revolution against capitalism, globalism, and imperialism to the next level. Hail Victory!
