National Socialist Movement to Sponsor White Rights Rally in Rome, Georgia on April 23rd, 2016

America's Premier White Nationalist Organization, The National Socialist Movement (nsm88.org), will hold its annual National Meeting in Georgia this year, accompanied by a public rally to bring our message to the public.

The current political climate in America ignores the major issues most American's are concerned with, including but not limited to enacting an America First Policy in Government, slamming the door on illegal immigration, white rights issues, crime, and countless other issues effecting the radically shrinking white majority in this Nation.

Commander Jeff Schoep of the National Socialist Movement states, "The time has come for White American's to reclaim their destiny, bring back American jobs, and reclaim our Nation from the Zionist stranglehold it has fallen under."

Due to the critical situation our Nation is currently facing, the time for factionalism in the White Nationalist Movement has ended. After several important meetings and talks, various pro-white organizations have agreed to come together, in order to build a united front of white organizations fighting side by side for the same end goal.

On April 23rd, The National Socialist Movement along with our allies from Aryan Nations, several Klan groups, and other pro-white rights organizations will unite to send a strong message to the enemies of free speech, and those forces who would trample upon the American way of Life. Your time has ended, and we are on the Rise!

This event is open to all respected Pro-White Groups, and Individuals. If you intend to be there make contact with us well in advance.

NSM CMDR BLASTS NAACP CRITICISM AND ANTI-WHITE PETITION AGAINST RALLY

Jeff Schoep, Commander of the National Socialist Movement (NSM88.ORG) condemns the anti-white criticism of its rally in Rome, Georgia on April 23rd as well as an equally anti-white petition against the event.

According to Commander Schoep, as stated by its title, the “Romans Against ‘White Rights’ Rally” petition by area music promoter, Brian Hill, seems philosophically prejudiced against white people. And the Rome-area NAACP criticism of the NSM Rally also seems hypocritical to the organization's continually stated aims against prejudice.

Schoep says that both the criticism and the petition are a shocking affront to Americans' First Amendment rights to Free Speech and Assembly. Although the petition sponsor claims to have over 700 signatures against white rights thus-far, its existence illustrates many of the problems the NSM is rallying against.

“We intend to answer this blatant anti-white petition,” says Schoep, who adds that “This will backfire against our opposition, and we intend to lambaste this anti-white hatred and hypocrisy right back. Additionally, why should the Rome-area chapter of the NAACP be afraid of deepening the dialogue on race?”

“White people have every right to fair representation in this nation, along with freedom of speech, and the right to assemble,” explains Schoep. “The National Socialist Movement and our allies are the front-lines in the fight for white rights, and we will not back down, nor will we be intimidated by those who wish to silence us, not now or ever!”

The petition as well as the NAACP (and its Rome, Georgia area chapter) and its allies indicate they want diversity, and rights for everybody, but they really want these rights for everyone except white people. That's some serious 'racism' on their side,” observed Commander Schoep, concluding that it is “Hypocrisy at it finest!”

White History Like You've Never Seen It Before!

Come on. Let's get real. If you believe what Zionist-controlled historians are publishing today is real history, you don't understand the business. Way too many academics get their salaries for writing history the way their employers want it to be written, not how it actually happened. And those who know better are most times too scared to write the truth for fear of professional retribution. There are all kinds of ways to punish professors who come up with the "wrong" conclusions. So where can you go for real WHITE history—facts—devoid of the deadly poison of political correctness?

THE BARNES REVIEW (TBR)

THE BARNES REVIEW (TBR) magazine is unlike any history magazine you have read before. Covering history from the dawn of time to the modern era, TBR is a lone voice for truth and honesty in a world of politically correct history journals. Once you read TBR for the first time, you'll understand why there is such a desperate need to reexamine and revise ALL historical events in light of new information. This goes from DNA studies of Neanderthals to recently found diary entries from WWII to once-secret government documents now declassified for the use of historians. And that's what we do here at TBR and why we have honest scholars from across the globe eager to have their works published in the pages of TBR. The fact is, though they are experts in their respective fields, their factual conclusions aren't exactly the ones the powers-that-be prefer to publish—but we do! Want to try THE BARNES REVIEW? Take a look at a great offer for first-time USA subscribers and renewers. . . .

Mourning the Ancient's Interview with Commander Jeff Schoep Used by Permission

1) Can you please introduce yourself and your organization the 'National Socialist Movement' (NSM)?

Greetings, I am Cmdr. Jeff Schoep the National Director of the NSM. The National Socialist Movement is America's largest NS group, and one of the largest Nationalist Organizations in the USA. We are highly active in the streets, politically, and even on the southwest borders with our ongoing patrols. We consider ourselves to be a white civil rights organization, much to the chagrin of the so-called civil rights groups that represent all of the non-white and special interest groups, it is critical that white people have such an organization as well, so we fill that void. The NSM is a continuation of the Movement of Commander George Lincoln Rockwell. We were founded in 1974 by Robert Brannen whom had previously served with Commander Rockwell. After Cmdr. Rockwell's untimely death (he was assassinated by a traitor by the name of John Patler) the movement splintered into several different NS factions, only 2 of those factions remain today that were directly connected to the Movement of Commander Rockwell, those being The National Socialist Movement and The New Order.

2) The NSM is probably one of the most visible NS organizations in the US, what kind of backlash have you experienced from the media, employers etc.?

The media is never very kind to us, we, like most white rights groups, are mislabeled as a hate group by the Zionist controlled mass media. In regards to employers, many of our people, myself included, in the past have been fired from jobs due to our open political activism. The average Party member does not usually have that problem, unless they are openly recruiting at work, which of course we discourage. Those of us who have done TV or newspaper interviews, or have run for public office are more likely to face persecution in the work place. The same goes for our people in the Armed forces, if the man or woman is recruiting while serving in the Army, the Army will kick you out. It's a double standard because it does not happen to non-white organizations, but it certainly happens to white groups. The one upside to your question regarding Media is that now with the internet NSM and other White Nationalist groups have our own Media. We have 3 radio shows that run live and also are recorded weekly, which feature live callers, guests, chat rooms, and downloads if you missed the live shows. We also have a quarterly E-Zine that is published on our website www.nsm88.org, a forum, email lists, our own media team called NSM Media that produces those along with videos on our YouTube channels. We even have full length DVDs that we offer at www.nsm88records.com which is our Record Label and store. We have essentially made our own media, as a way to promote our goals and ideals without Zionist influence and control. It's news from the source, how it should be.

3) I recently listened to a speech you gave in Mississippi and I really liked the way you stressed the fact that we need to remember that it is not the immigrants that are orchestrating the destruction of Western culture, and as a matter of fact they themselves only wish to live in peace. We know who the enemy is, and that enemy is the enemy of all peoples. The Third Reich united with all races of mankind to fight our common foe, and that is the key. Hatred in the wrong direction is detrimental to us all and the enemy knows this and instigates and takes advantage of this weakness. Can you explain a bit more about how you feel about this?

Thank you, and yes you are absolutely correct. I am glad you asked me this question, as it is something people so often misunderstand about National Socialism and our stance on White Rights in general. NS is NOT about hate, it never was, and it never will be. Sure, we all hate that has happened to our Nation and what is happening to our Folk, but what motivates us is not hate, but rather love for our people, land, and heritage. I have done countless interviews over the years with mainstream media and they so often call us a hate group, or ask why do we hate this group or that, and it always baffles the mind. I challenge them to look on our site and tell me where they find anything that is truly hateful. They really cannot do it. They say that our policy of white separation is hateful and other silly things like that. Indeed the 3rd Reich did incorporate people from many different racial backgrounds into the fight for National Socialism. NS politically can be taken and transplanted into any Nation. I often hear people parroting the lie that Hitler claimed NS was only for Germans and not for export, that simply is not true. The Waffen SS for example had people of many different Nations, Races, Religions, and cultures involved in it, one of the lesser known divisions is the Handschar SS which was a Muslim division with volunteers from Bosnia and also Arab lands. The Grand Mufti of Palestine was allied with Hitler and NS, and even today we have many people from that part of the world who adore Hitler and NS.

I have even personally met with people in the past that had connections with the Handschar Division, other SS Divisions, Hitler Youth, Volksturm, and Wehrmacht too of course. Perhaps that was off topic a bit, but it may be of some interest to those reading this who believe NS was only for Germans, or only for white people. Perhaps even further off topic-- there is an interesting movie, I believe it was called "My Way", about a Korean marathon runner, which they say is based on a true story. A very good movie if anyone wants to check it out, based in World War 2, long story short at the end two Koreans were captured by the U.S. in German Wehrmacht uniforms fighting for the German Reich, and the movie tells the story of how that all happened, but my point is simple, if NS Germany hated non-whites then why did they have Arab Divisions in the SS and even a couple of random Korean guys in the Army?

Back to your question, yes all of mankind should be fighting for National Socialism against our common foes which are the International Zionists, communists, and their allies. They say communism is dead, but International Jewry has played both sides, capitalism and communism, and they are in the thick of the evil that plagues us to this day. That being said, it is not the poor illegal immigrant family that we must fight against, it is those who have orchestrated the madness behind their plight, and those whom have propped open our borders, granted amnesty and have brought our Nation to the brink of collapse.

4) There seems to be a sentiment that has taken hold of the movement recently that women are the major factor behind our problems and that women should not be allowed to vote or participate in politics on any level. It seems to me that actually we NEED women and sending the message that women 'belong in the kitchen' is the exact wrong way to attract women. Thoughts?

Myself and the NSM feel that women are an important part of our struggle, and certainly not a major factor behind our problems. Women have been targeted more so by Zionist brainwashing techniques and more have given into miscegenation than our men have, however it is not women as a whole that are our problem. If you ask me, less of our women would be lost if more of our men were Alpha male types and actually proved worthy to attract our women. I know I will take some flak from some people for saying that, but I for one have never had any problems talking to, or bringing women to our side. Not that a man is needed to bring them to our side either, just making a point, as so many men in the Nationalist Movement are perpetually single, and being in this struggle so many years I know these guys and they are good men, great men really many of them, it is just that so many women turn away from our struggle or fear it even.

On the other hand, the NSM is one of the few organizations that does allow and have women in leadership positions. We have even had regional leaders that have been women in recent years. A regional leader is someone who is in charge of a number of states including overseeing the state and local chapters, so we see ourselves as an equal opportunity organization (ughhhh, that sounds so liberal, ha ha ha kidding), but in all seriousness we do have women in key positions if they qualify and we will continue to do so. It's not about which gender someone is, it's about who can best do the job, and believe me I am sure not all men like it, even within our Organization, but we are not run by a democracy, the NSM operates under National Socialism, there is no voting within the org.

5) Do you think organizations are the way to go at this point in the struggle? There are those who believe a lone wolf strategy is best. Everyone has heard of the deep infiltrations of enemy spies and agents that target organizations. Does that worry you? I don't see any way to safeguard against this. Enemy agents could no doubt sow a lot of subtle chaos in groups, not to mention gather intelligence. Realistically, don't you think there are agents hiding in the NSM? Since you are smart and do not tolerate illegal activities of any kind, the effectiveness of these parasites is limited, however. Your thoughts on all of this?

I disagree with the lone wolf strategy, it is the politics of failure if you ask my opinion, with one big exception, let me explain here. Now, if someone is going out to do something illegal or let's say revolutionary even, then yes the lone wolf route is the only way to go, and it can be highly effective in that sense. However as a mass political movement or philosophy it is an absolute failure and will serve nothing but setting us back. I have been active in this struggle for 20 plus years now, and have seen/met hundreds, maybe thousands of people who claimed to follow the lone wolf strategy, and for 99% of them it was an excuse to do absolutely nothing, and I do mean NOTHING for the white struggle. Sitting around drinking, hanging out, being a club of buddies or whatever they want to call it, it's called being lazy and doing nothing. The other 1% are guys who are striking out against the system in very real ways, and for them the lone wolf strategy is the best route and it is effective and we must honor those men and women.

Regarding enemy spies, yes it is a very real problem we have faced, and likewise every organized white nationalist group has faced it. We have some things in place to help catch these vermin, and sometimes we do catch them, other times they go undetected, especially in larger groups like ours it is very difficult to know who is trustable. I always tell people to never say anything to anyone that you would not say inside a police station, yea maybe that's being paranoid because most of the people are involved for the right reasons, and maybe 1 out of 1,000 are informants, or more or less, we never know, but it is still wise to be cautious of everyone, and avoid illegal activities to avoid being sent into zog's gulags. For us we keep it legal so enemy spies have little to report on, but sometimes they go on to sell their stories and write books.

One informant that I remember from recent years went on TV and lied, telling the cameras that the time he spent with the NSM he heard guys talking about killing people, raping, beating down non-whites and basically every violent thing he could think of. He spoke of how violent and dangerous we are, yet his infiltration of our organization led to not one arrest of anyone involved in our organization, so I wonder where did he witness all these claims he made? It was all lies obviously, but he nevertheless collected $20,000.00 in taxpayer's dollars from the federal government in pay for spying on us, and who knows how much was made for him in book sales, and whatever other deals he cut. That was just one informant story, I have others.

6) There has been a void of leadership within the struggle for years. Many of our greatest men are in dungeons around the world. It seems every time a potential leader arrives on the scene the enemy finds a way to take him down. The enemy specializes in lies and deceit, often planting 'evidence' of some crime on their targets. Matt Hale is a good example. First they attacked his organization, stripping it of its name, then, not satisfied, they charged him with a ludicrous accusation of wanting to kill a judge. What are your thoughts and how will you avoid the minefield?

Rev. Matt Hale is a friend, and a good man. I was there with him and others in Chicago getting ready to attend his court hearing over the stripping of his organizations name, and after he walked through the metal detectors for court the Federal Marshalls grabbed him. A few others and I were also detained and then released later that day.

I really liked your interview with Rev. Hale, and I do fully believe he was framed and set up by an informant. I encourage anyone reading this interview to go back and read Rev. Hale's interview first if you have not already done so, to get an understanding of exactly what was done to him. My advice for all white nationalists trying to avoid the minefield is this: stay legal, and do not even tolerate anyone speaking about illegal or potentially questionable things around you. Rev. Hale's case is one of the scariest set-ups I can think of. I believe the informant offered to do something illegal and Rev. Hale simply stated that he does not do anything illegal but whatever this guy wants to do is on him, and the system twisted that into Rev. Hale giving the approval for something illegal. Now that is scary, and an absolute travesty of justice. Things are not the same now as they were back in the 1980s or early 90s when a fight was just a fight and a night in jail, now a fight can land you with hate crimes charges and a 7 year sentence or longer.

It's insanity at it's worst! We have young men coming to our ranks all the time and they want to go take care of business, and we advise every one of them that if they come to us with this stuff that it will end them up in jail, and to do things legally. If they persist with that talk we cut them loose from the organization, we can only assume they are working for the system and attempting to entrap us, which we will not tolerate. The NSM has a strict policy that if someone commits a serious crime while a member of the Party we revoke their membership. It has to be done to protect the organization, and it's the same policy most other groups have adopted now as well, it's the only way to keep the group alive and operating in this dangerous environment, behind enemy lines, so to speak.

7) One thing that many people criticize groups like the NSM of is wearing historical German National Socialist uniforms. We all love and respect our great NS warriors past, but people say wearing uniforms/collar tabs and badges is going too far. Critics bring up the argument that many of these things were earned, especially the SS collar tabs. Your thoughts?

The NSM changed its uniforms in April 2008 when we dropped the Commander Rockwell Era brown shirts and swastika armbands and went to all black BDUs [battle dress uniform –Ed.], with NSM patches. The only time the traditional uniforms of our early days are worn now is at the National Meeting on or around the weekend of April 20th every year, to honor Adolf Hitler, and also to honor our founder Commander Rockwell. The traditional uniforms have not been worn at any public rally since November of 2007 which has been almost 10 years now, but yet we do still hear online chatter about 'oh the NSM wears German uniforms at rallies', etc., which is not even true. I do agree that no one should be wearing German war medals, or any war medals that were not earned and perhaps a few people had done that in decades in the past, but it is not something we see going on now. We do however allow members who had served in the U.S. armed forces to wear their earned medals and ribbons on their uniforms if they choose to do so.

8) Do I understand it correctly that the NSM no longer permits the wearing of historical NS uniforms? When was this decision made and what motivated it?

Ahhh, I just partially answered this in question #7. The motivation was for multiple reasons. One being that so many people coming to us for membership thought we were just a group for Germans, which looking back still makes me laugh but it was a really common question, so obviously it was a problem we had with our own identity. Some party members would have liked to keep the brown shirts as it tied us historically to our past connection with Commander Rockwell's original ANP [American Nazi Party -ed.], however the times had changed and I felt that a more modern approach was needed. I looked at the growth some of our fellow NS groups in Europe were having and how they did things, and I felt the NSM in America was lacking in vision and a path into the future. America now is not what it was in the 1960s and 70s, and the time to modernize was upon us, so I made the move and announced it at our National Meeting in April of 2008, the next day we marched in Washington DC. Not everyone liked the move, but overall I think it was a wise move for the organization, and we are not really concerned with what people like, but rather what will bring us to Victory here in this Nation, and we hope to achieve that one day, or at least pave the path for it.

9) There is a ton of foolish and self-destructive arguing going on in the struggle. People whom generally believe the same thing but differ on tactics spend much of their energies fighting with one another. I believe people should keep their opinions to themselves and behind closed doors. Airing their grievances to the public makes them look childish and is tactically unsound. Personally I disagree with many things various people do and say in our fight, but at the end of the day we are fighting for the same ultimate goal. People should learn to keep their disputes private. Personally, I would never complain publicly about anyone whose heart is in the right place but whose beliefs or tactics may differ from my own. Now behind closed doors, that's another matter entirely, I'll grumble to the dark until I'm blue in the face! But ultimately, people should keep their eyes on the real enemy and end the lame and cowardly internet attacks. How do you feel about all of this?

You summed this up 100% and I fully agree with every word in that statement. The NSM has never, ever aired dirty laundry on our website. At one time we were even sued by another alleged nationalist, we had to go to court and defend ourselves and hire a lawyer. It was horrible but we won the case, of course, because it was frivolous. Even after all of this that person and their ridiculous lawsuit against us was never mentioned on our site. A couple of other times people we had thrown out of the organization went on to attempt to form other groups, and tried to start drama with us, we ignored that too, and those people and their games have ended now. Every so often I will check around other groups sites and sometimes you will find public drama they have between other groups.

Our enemies pick up that stuff and run with it, which is why we will never provide any ammo to our enemies, and if we have problems, we handle them in-house, and/or directly in person until that problem ends, or the person stops their silly behavior. Sure, there are many different groups and we all have different ideas, ways of doing things, and sometimes we do not get along, but that stuff should never be aired publically where the enemies of our Folk can see it and laugh at us all about it. There needs to be more discipline in the white struggle, and that should be something all groups agree on across the board to not attack each other online. Privately, who cares, but publicly, never!

10) The internet has been one of the greatest tools for the struggle for truth. Never before has unrestricted access of knowledge been so accessible. On the downside there is a lot of garbage and falsities and lies. But anyone with an ounce of intelligence will eventually find the truth and what's really happening. How has the internet affected you and the NSM? What are your thoughts on it?

The internet has been a great tool for the NSM which we utilize to our full advantage. For the most part it has been a wonderful and effective tool for us. The only downside with the internet is that any idiot can create a free blog site/page and make up lies, slander and garbage. Since I am a public figure I have gotten a lot of flack online, as is true with anyone who is a public figure, some of us get it worse than others. I have been called a Jew, race mixer and a Satanist. Sites have doctored up images targeting my family. There have even been claims that my kids are black or that I date black porn stars, pretty much every thing you can think of. These psychos probably say I molest small animals, who knows anymore, the lies change often.

Most of it is pretty funny and ridiculous, but when someone takes this stuff seriously, like it is true, then it's pretty sad. I had a guy ask me if some of these things are true just recently, and I asked him if he thought that the entire NSM and all the groups we work with would really tolerate my even being around them if it were true? He said hmmm, I suppose you are right, that was a stupid thing to ask. All the drama and being targeted by crazy people is still worth it though. If I did not believe this struggle was needed to save our people, I would have dropped out long ago, but I stay on in service to our Folk, as it is the honorable and correct thing to do.

11) Have you paid much attention to the Golden Dawn of Greece? Any thoughts on them?

Yes, I love the Golden Dawn. I have been a fan of theirs for many years. Back in the early days of my activism in the 1990s we used to swap publications by mail with the Golden Dawn, and wow they have really come a long way. They are a model of success and we salute them for all they are doing for the Greek people and the NS struggle in general.

12) With the immigration crisis in Europe, do you think more people will begin to awake to the truth?

Yes, absolutely. White people of Europe will either have to rise up again, or our Race there will be finished, I for one believe that they will rise up and history will repeat itself and halt the invasion!

13) Let's talk about the glorious, epic and tragic war that was World War Two. For the past few years we've been researching and posting pictures and information on a part of our website called 'Adolf Hitler and the Army of Mankind'. The project documents with pictures and information the millions of non-Germans and, even more surprising, the many different non-white races which fought and died beside the Germans. These men, Blacks, Arabs, Asians, Indians, etc., fought beside Germany until the bloody and terrible end. Many non-whites even fought in the final battle of Berlin. Adolf Hitler raised more Muslim soldiers to fight for him than any non-Muslim in history. Commando Otto Skorzeny describes the incredibly diverse nature of the Waffen-SS in his 1975 memoirs: '...from 1942 European soldiers from many lands and peoples could be found: Albanians, Bosnians, Britons, Bulgarians, Cossacks, Croats, Danes, Dutch, Estonians, Finns, Flemings, French, Georgians, Greeks, Hungarians, Italians, Latvians, Lithuanians, Norwegians, Romanians, Russians, Serbs, Slovaks, Swedes, Swiss, Ukrainians, Walloons, Armenians, Byelorussians, Hindus, Kirghizes, Tartars, Turkmen and Uzbeks served under their own flags in the Waffen-SS. Almost all of these peoples were represented in my unit.' Now to my question, did you know about all of this? Were you as shocked as I was when you first learned about blacks and other non-whites wearing a 'Nazi' uniform and fighting for the Third Reich? Personally, I was shocked. They never taught any of this in school to us. Your thoughts this subject?

I did touch on this earlier in the interview, and it is not widely known what you mention. I have been a NS for many years now so yes I was aware of these things, and when you speak to men that served there like Otto Skorzeny (a hero), or my old comrade Theo Junker, the man who built the Hitler Memorial Hall in Wisconsin (Theo served in the Waffen-SS), his monument mentioned all of the volunteers and honored their sacrifice. You are correct, they do not teach any of this in school, and even many modern NS today still are not aware of this. I am glad you mentioned it because it's something we should probably draw more attention to, as the Zionist media is constantly hammering the public with all this 'National Socialism is hate' garbage, so it's a good thing to bring to light for sure.

14) Obviously they wish to divide and conquer us. They have been pushing lies and propaganda into our heads since the day we were born regarding how evil and racist Adolf Hitler was. But in fact, the exact opposite is true. It was America and Britain and their Allies whom were the racists. America had a plethora of race laws against blacks during WWII. Thoughts?

True statement. It is interesting how the victors write, or should I say re-write history.

15) The enemy's greatest fear is if the races stopped fighting one another and started fighting united against the real enemy. The enemy who orchestrates all of our destruction and sees all men --black, white, yellow, brown -- as little more than garbage. Adolf Hitler understood the nature of the enemy and our fight. He didn't see other races as his enemies, but in fact held great respect for them. Millions of non-whites saw Hitler as their savior, rightfully, during WWII. Adolf Hitler told Mohamed Amin al-Husseini that when the German armies reached the Caucasus, the border between Europe and Asia, to tell the Arab people that their freedom was at hand. The Arab Muslims even went so far as saying 'Allah in Heaven, Hitler on Earth'. During WWII Japan freed certain islands from American and European colonial occupation that were held by Germany in the past -- islands that were stripped from Germany after WWI -- the Japanese asked Adolf Hitler if they wanted the islands back. Adolf Hitler told them NO, he didn't believe in colonialism. I could go on and on... but I'll let you take over! Your thoughts on it all?

You put that all very eloquently, and you are correct. The International Jew had hoped to erase those truths, and use the other races as a bulwark against white National Socialists. It is a monumental task to re-educate people to these truths, but slowly and surely we are doing so.

16) Do you think it is possible for the white race to unite with non-whites in today's age against our real enemy?

Yes, I feel it is possible, and may very well be critical to our success. It is easy for anyone to say 'oh hell we do not need them', and 'we can do it alone', but I am a realist, and with so many enemies aligned against us, especially from amongst our own people, we must do whatever it takes to bring about Victory, and if it means making alliances, then by all means we must consider it.

17) Hypothetically, what if there was a group of black people who shared the goals and values of the NSM. Would it be possible to have a rally or march beside them? Can you imagine the enemy shitting his pants seeing that...

Well, that may be a bitter pill for some to swallow, but I do feel that anything is possible, realistic perhaps not, but possible. I would like to mention that last year I did speak at a black peoples conference in Beverly Hills, California with many black leaders from various black organizations. There are pictures, a video, and story about that on the NSM website. As far as I know, I am the first National Socialist to do that since Commander Rockwell spoke at the Nation of Islam in the 1960s, so it was definitely a historical event, which the mainstream media almost completely blacklisted (no pun intended) and ignored. We did some radio interviews in Los Angeles right afterwards with mainstream radio, but the TV media ignored the event.

The communist party and some Jews disrupted the first venue and were screaming at the blacks about why they invited me to speak, saying I was as 'evil as Hitler' and other crazy things, but the event went on despite the rude interruptions. The event was called a 'Conversation on Race', so I would not say the black groups there were necessarily allies, but a civil discussion had been started and we all agreed that we may do more of it in the future, so I feel it was productive and very interesting for sure. We have to start somewhere and that was a step in the right direction, and the Zionist media was not going to touch that. The publicist for the event was a well-known person who worked for big Hollywood stars, so it's not that they did not advertise or promote the event correctly, they absolutely did, it's simply that the media did not want it known that black groups were meeting with National Socialists. For more info on that see nsm88.org

18) We should brush a little bit upon the insanity in the Middle East. ISIS clearly is a puppet of Israel. What do you believe?

ISIS, or ISIL, is certainly a puppet of Israel (Occupied Palestine). I am certain most of the men/fighters who are with them do not wish to believe that, but it certainly seems to be the case. The Middle East is a mess right now. The U.S. backed overthrow of Libya turned that nation into a failed state now, and the same could be said of the mess in Iraq. Thankfully in Syria President Assad is still strong as a lion and he has help from Hezbollah, and now Russia as well, to stop the spread of ISIS terrorism in Syria.

19) I'd like to ask you a few philosophical questions now. I'm unsure if you have a religious affiliation, and it's unimportant here anyway, but I wanted to see what you thought about the idea of life-after-death? Do you believe a part of us lives on?

I really do not wish to comment too much on my religious affiliation, those who know me know where I stand on the matter, but considering that the NSM does not endorse any particular religion, and our policy is that it is for home/family and or church or religious establishments, I would rather not publicly state my affiliation for the record. A wise man considers the possibility of anything, and I do believe that part of us may live on, and our ancestors watch over us here, so we must honor them and live well by them.

20) I've always pondered death and its inevitability, but recently more so, as someone I loved dearly died rather suddenly. They were in the prime of their life and were suddenly gone, forever. The funeral took place on a dark and rainy afternoon and mirrored perfectly how I was feeling. It was an open casket viewing, but I couldn't bear to see the person I loved, someone who had been so very alive, dead. So I sat at the back, stared at the coffin from a distance, and thought about all of the times we had together. They would never be again. Was there something other than this? Was oblivion our fate? Was an after-life just wishful thinking? I couldn't say. The answers lie behind a veil none can peek. What do you think? Have you lost many loved ones? Do you think about your own end on this earth?

Your feeling here is understandable and very normal, at least from my point of view. I have also experienced the death of someone I was close to recently, and thankfully I was able to see them just before they passed and say goodbye, etc. This person was not religious at all, but in the end they did speak of going to see loved ones who had passed on, so that in and of itself I believe tells us there may certainly be something else out there. I do not really ponder my own mortality very often, but I suppose it will come for all of us one day.

21) If there is a divine intelligence out there --an all-knowing being, and you could ask one single question to them, what question would you ask?

Of all the questions asked, I am tripped up on this one. Wow, only one question to ask would not be enough, I would try twisting their arm to learn more, just part of my curious nature I suppose ha ha, but if I was forced to ask just one, it would have to be something about the afterlife I believe.

22) If you could meet our divine Führer Adolf Hitler, just for a moment, what would you say?

Thank you for your sacrifice, and I hope we have honored you in some small way by carrying on the fight today.

23) Have you read any of Savitri Devi's books? More specifically, her enchanted and beautiful book 'The Lightning and the Sun'? Or any works by Miguel Serrano or James Larratt Battersby? They express an idea that a growing legion of people have now come to believe: that Adolf Hitler was a divine man. Personally, he gives me faith in something greater than just us mortals. He fills that terrible void between life and death. He gives purpose. Hope. No one, faith aside, can say if 'god' exists, but we can say with certainty that Adolf Hitler does. Someone once said that Adolf Hitler is proof of God's love for the human race.

I am familiar with the spiritual aspect and philosophy put forth in her books and believe Savitri Devi to be a very wise woman. I highly recommend that people look into her works, especially the Lightning and the Sun.

24) There are countless amounts of people out there who do not like the way things are in this world and see the world headed into an abyss. Many people are looking for answers and eventually they find out the truth. But once people are aware of the immensity of it all they still don't know what they can do about it, or rather how they personally can contribute to the fight. There can be a great sense of powerlessness. What is your advice to people like this? What is your opinion of the best ways to contribute to the fight and make a difference?

I feel that everyone out there can get involved in the struggle in some small way. Not everyone can be a street activist, or patrol the borders, not everyone has money to contribute, not everyone can pass out literature, but everyone can do something, be it to promote the struggle online, or any one or more of the previous things I mentioned. There are so many ways, no specific way is best, but each person can and must do something, for those whom refuse to do anything are no better than the enemy if they choose the path of nothingness!

25) Tell us about your early influences. What was it like for you growing up?

I had a good life growing up, a wonderful family, and just pretty normal I suppose. Early influences, hmmm, politically I have always admired Adolf Hitler from as young as I can remember. Rudolf Hess the prisoner of peace was also someone I admired later on when I learned of him, and the same goes for Julius Streicher, Otto Skorzeny, and so many others who sacrificed for the struggle. On the American scene Commander Rockwell of course, Fritz Kuhn, The men of the Order, and all of the men I served with who fought alongside Cmdr. Rockwell too many to name all of them.

26) When did you first realize something was wrong with the world? For me, I remember in college being forced to take a 'minority sensitivity class'. It was the most anti-white filth I'd ever heard. It really angered me. What first awakened you and who are some of the first people you discovered in the movement when you went looking for answers? I remember going into a small used book store, looking through the True Crime books, and discovering the system book 'The Silent Brotherhood'. That book opened the door for me personally. From that book I discovered the greatest American heroes of all time. I also discovered a great, great teacher -- Dr. William Pierce.

I was interested in NS from a very young age, as long as I can remember, but actually getting active in it was not until I was around 17 when I first found groups to get in contact with. Before the internet was really anything, it was books, and I found one called '88' which had addresses in the back where you could write to all the different groups active at the time. By the time I was 18 I met with the different groups in my area and began with activism then.

27) Well, we've taken enough of your time Jeff! This interrogation is coming to an end and we'll let you get back to the fight. But first, any words of wisdom to this blood-spattered world?

Thank you so much for honoring the National Socialist Movement with this well put together interview, and thank you and salutes to you for your efforts on behalf of our Folk. Your service to the struggle over the years is commendable and much appreciated. Aryan women in this struggle are not at the forefront as much as they could be, so you Sister are a shining example to all with your efforts in this fight. In closing, I ask that all National Socialists and Nationalists in this struggle double your efforts, and fight twice as hard this year, the battle rages on! 88! Commander Jeff Schoep/National Socialist Movement.

1967's "The Prisoner" and Orwell's "1984" A Comparative Essay by Kevin ("KJ") James

Some against us point to Dr. William Pierce's Turner Diaries, or O.T. Gunnarsson's Hear the Cradle Song as eloquent, if not horrific works of written fiction. They are shocked that white people could dare disturb the social order with subtle and compelling intellectualism, by portraying dystopian futures that are triggered by our current and unfortunate liberal present. Their fingers pointed against such literary warnings also usually point against those of us whites who have the mental capacities to read and digest these novels. However, before you read such specific works (both of which I would recommend), I would suggest you start out with a couple of works that are more universally acceptable (especially among those against us), and even more potent.

In 1967, Patrick McGoohan, fresh from his success of the British TV spy show, Dangerman, pitched media financier, Sir Lew Grade, a unique idea for a mind-blowing new production. The concept was straight-forward, but complex. A British Secret Service agent resigns (for whatever emphatic personal reasons). While he is packing for a vacation, he is gassed unconscious in his London apartment. Later, he wakes up in what seems to be his bedroom, but it's not. As he opens the blinds to his window, the former secret agent finds that 'his room' is actually a mere recreation of his home...(cue ominous music)...in The Village.

Whilst filming an episode of Dangerman, McGoohan came upon the Hotel Portmeirion (in the small resort town of the same name) owned as the on-going artistic architectural project of Clough Williams-Ellis. The 1926 hotel and its surrounding bizarrely cosmopolitan grounds stuck in the actor/writer/producer/director's mind. The premise was that secret agents who retire (or are presumably retired forcibly) are taken to The Village to have "the specialized knowledge" that they possess "extracted from their heads" in a disarmingly quaint resort setting.

CHECK OUT THE WIKIPEDIA ARTICLE FOR A MORE COMPLETE GUIDE TO THE SERIES https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The\_Prisoner

What is even more disarming, is that those there find that they cannot trust anyone, especially not those in charge of The Village, while their heads are ostensibly messed with. That charming former Russian spy you try to escape with might actually be a consultant hired to break you. The cute Oriental taxi driver will only cryptically pronounce that she thought you “might be a Pole or a Czech,” and that The Village is “very cosmopolitan.” That politely helpful employment counselor might surreptitiously pry into “your politics.” That nice old retired scientist and his wife might be curiously brainwashed into submission. And, the general who plays chess with you will not tell you what country he served, or who he now serves. And, everyone refers to you as 'Number Six,' instead of by any real name.

The super-premise of the show was that if those who ran The Village could find out WHY Number Six resigned, they believed that “all that knowledge in that noodle of yours” would come spilling out. Whether The Village was run by the Brits, or Communist countries (or BOTH), was and still is largely irrelevant to this psychological action thriller.

The key focus is that with The Village as a microcosmic representation of the larger world, just like Number Six, we have to be able to maintain our selfhood and individuality from society. Conceivably by the way, as shocking as this allegory might seem, this 'individuality' could also come to mean 'whiteness'...

By the way, the show has even been analyzed as a college class by the University of Ontario (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WiIUnCMpGbM>), and even lampooned on The Simpsons in episode which very tidily sums up the enigmatic series (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4RV3RXMNGVs>). If you have not seen the show, look it up on YouTube and enjoy! On the not-so-amusing end of the spectrum comes George Orwell's classic book, 1984.

Published in 1949 by George Orwell (nee Eric Arthur Blair), Nineteen Eighty-Four might be considered a worthy, if not suitably over-dramatic advance representation of The Prisoner. Orwell's 'village' is actually a world in which everyone is everyone has a real name, but the government decides what is real in the media, and even history. Everyone is watched under surveillance. Everyone lives in fear of being seen as individual ('unmutual,' as would be the term in The Prisoner). The government is double-faced in its dealing with citizens. And, citizens find themselves having the 'double-think' just to survive. Funny, we're almost there. But, wait, there's more...

Although The Prisoner is finely created television, Orwell's novel somehow manages to come out 'better' in some respects. For those of us who still read books, we have the ability to paint wide-ranging, perhaps even unimaginable, images in our minds based on what we read, without the constraints of what we see in a video representation.

And, while The Prisoner is more plausible in most respects, overall 1984, is much more eerily closer to where we actually are in society right now. We do have citizens brainwashed into telling on those who they feel are too far out of step with society.

We are under more surveillance, even than in The Village. There are 'thought-crimes' in which we can be indicatively be accused of. But, unlike The Prisoner, in Nineteen Eighty-Four, human intimacy and love between a man and woman is demeaned as an act and premise, just as the daily "Two Minutes of Hate" is an almost meaningless perfunctory public hypnotic cross-communal catharsis.

But, if you were to ask me, which of these two do I prefer the best, I would be almost unable to answer. One reaches into the depths of our minds with almost unimaginable duplicity and terror, and the other grabs us and transports us into a place for which there is no safety for anyone of any color, creed, or philosophy. Unfortunately, there have been (and probably still are) 'Villages' out there. And, 2016 seems to be becoming like "1984."

“Help, I can't get on NSM88.ORG!” By Kevin (“KJ”) James

Recently, I had trouble getting onto NSM88.ORG and NSM88Forum.com. Pretty important for me, wouldn't you say?

Besides checking all my settings and running three layers of antivirus/malware scanners, I did a basic reset on my cable modem. Still, I could not get on. So, I ran a trace route.

By typing in the “Run” section of the Start Menu the following (tracert nsm88.org), I was able to see the route my request to get to the site was taking on the internet. For sake of not angering my ISP (internet service provider) or the company that is one of the 'long lines' providers in this case, you'll notice that I won't mention either company. But, my request for the sites got stuck (“timed out”) on the 16th and 17th computers in the path at the long-lines internet provide.

It's no secret that some internet service providers don't entirely like National Socialist websites. So, if one of their servers goes down that is part of the internet daisy-chain bringing that site to you goes down, the issue is not entirely the most important one to them – especially since the sequence of long-lines routers you are assigned to by your ISP is largely luck of the draw. And, the 'outage' could even be 'local,' courtesy malware or a virus. But, now that you have things figured out, what do you do now?

You can use the Tor (<https://www.torproject.org/>) anonymous browsing system. By downloading this application, you can surf the internet 'anonymously,' AND reach websites that might be blocked accidentally by faulty equipment, or on purpose by the equally faulty worldviews of the admins who run them. While this might seem the optimal solution, but why 'satisfice' for your life being made a little more complicated?

Another alternative is to reset the IP address that your computer is using to access your ISP and the rest of the internet. Click the "Start Menu," and type "cmd" in the "Run" area. This brings up a slightly intimidating little black box known as the command window. You will see text, and you can type in it. Type "ipconfig /renew" and then press "Enter". Wait until a line appears saying that the command has completed successfully or the IP address has been renewed. Some ISPs will also require you type in "ipconfig /release" FIRST, so be sure to contact them first or check their documentation before you take this step. In fact, you might as well contact your ISP first to make sure that there is no possibility by your doing this that you can harm your computer or its local network. By the way, I'm fully back on the internet...writing this to you now!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Kevin (“KJ”) James is a largely self-taught computer user. He has designed websites, and consulted with internet users on their products. He's even brought a couple of computers back from the grave. But, he does re-emphasize that even while we're providing this information, it's a 'best-practice' to verify the procedure with your ISP FIRST before you attempt this, as NSM is NOT going to buy you a new computer if you mess up!

White History Month Letter Campaign Request

By NSM Chief of Staff

88 Comrades,

Please Copy and paste the letter below. Send to all your Senators, Congressmen and Representatives from your state.

NSM Chief of Staff

To the Honorable _____ :

As one of your constituents, I am writing to you to address an issue which concerns me. That issue is the fact that the federal government does not recognize White History Month.

The White race has a very rich history, replete with contributions to our society ranging from discoveries in medicine, astronomy and cartography to new modes of transportation, technology, and even the democracy we enjoy in this country today. These are but a few areas to which Whites have contributed greatly. And while there are many positive aspects in the history of the White race, we cannot and should not deny or ignore the negative aspects, such as wars and slavery.

White History Month would provide a time to celebrate our positive history and to learn about our negative history, allowing us to move forward to making more positive history for our descendants to appreciate and celebrate.

The Federal government currently recognizes a few special emphasis months – three of them being Black History Month, Spanish Heritage Month, and LGBT (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender) Month. In the interest of equality for all and to show that the federal government does not favor any race or group over another, the recognition of White History Month is an important issue and one I hope you will support and work towards accomplishing.

Sincerely,

The Stranger

by Rudyard Kipling

First published in the Morning Post, Collier's Weekly, and the Vancouver World in April 1908; collected in Songs from Books (1912). Now in the public domain.

The Stranger within my gate,
He may be true or kind,
But he does not talk my talk—
I cannot feel his mind.
I see the face and the eyes and the mouth,
But not the soul behind.

The men of my own stock,
They may do ill or well,
But they tell the lies I am wonted to,
They are used to the lies I tell;
And we do not need interpreters
When we go to buy or sell.

The Stranger within my gates,
He may be evil or good,
But I cannot tell what powers control—
What reasons sway his mood;
Nor when the Gods of his far-off land
Shall repossess his blood.

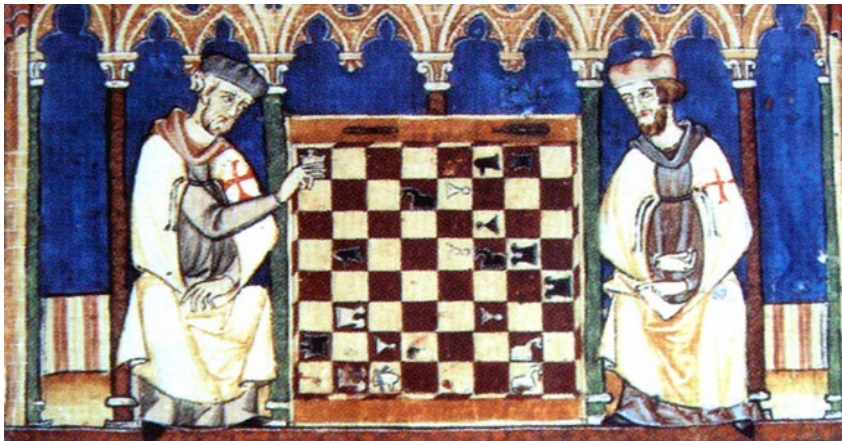

The men of my own stock,
Bitter bad they may be,
But, at least, they hear the things I hear,
And see the things I see;
And whatever I think of them and their likes
They think of the likes of me.

This was my father's belief
And this is also mine:
Let the corn be all one sheaf—
And the grapes be all one vine,
Ere our children's teeth are set on edge
By bitter bread and wine.

What is 'Aryan?'

A couple of friends of mine got into an argument the other day over the question of WHO are ARYANS. One friend said that Aryans strictly came primarily from Western and Northern Europe (with Central Europe to a lesser degree), which the other friend believed the almost Darwinian Kurgan Theory supporting a trend of human migrations from Central Europe towards other countries, including India, two thousand or more years BC. But, while some people subscribe to this theory, there is a more traditionally relevant interpretation of the matter.

Even if some proto-Aryans did move south from more northern regions, the genetic information they carry is far more crossed with more (pardon the pun) more 'diverse' DNA, including recurring strands from other parts of Asia. Specifically regarding the distribution of the common Human Y-chromosomes, the R1b is much more prevalent in Western Europe, and practically becomes relatively extinct by the time it is observed in India, and statistically totally non-existent by the time humans are cataloged in Africa. Conversely, the R1a haplogroup on the other hand, is most noticeable in Russia, India, with moderate prevalence in Western Europe.

While this would seem to confirm the likelihood that Aryan humans did move towards the Fertile Crescent and even beyond into India, it is even more likely that infusions of DNA from other genotypes cross-pollinated these people into a less homogeneous population that is far different from its Western and Northern European cousins. And it is perhaps here the lies the root of what is considered 'Aryan.' Indeed, various researchers have marveled over the years that the peoples of Western and Northern Europe are far more similar with regards to various DNA markers than even those in Russia!

So, what is the downbeat of all this? Well, while there is likely to have been a co-mingling of Aryans over much of the European continent to varying degrees, it is actually the external and observable stereotypes (yes, including 'blond and blue-eyed,' altruistic) that created a marked recurring theme among what is termed, 'Aryan.' Yes, it seems that BOTH of my friends are CORRECT. And, as long as they continue to espouse the stereotypical best of culture, society, and personal-being, these two Aryans are appreciated for their differences AND their similarities!

Immigrate, Assimilate, Integrate: The Fallacies

Over the past decade, those for unbridled/uncontrolled/encouraged immigration into the U.S. and other Western(ized) countries have been continually spouting a series of conspicuously constructed, yet very mistaken statements.

For one, they claim that those of us unfriendly to illegal aliens invading our countries are ignoring the entry into our nations by people from other countries. For example, in America, 'they' tell 'us' that we are seeming to ignore immigrants of the past, like the Irish, who came to join us on our soil.

But, that is precisely the idea.

The Irish who escaped their country's Potato Famine during the 19th Century entered the United States LEGALLY via Ellis Island. Regrettably, the same cannot be said for the 20th or 21st Century Hispanics who leave their drug-ridden culture in Mexico.

At least the Irish tried to fit in our America's cultural melting pot, instead of trying to 're-season' the social broth!

Instead of entering America legally, far too many trek through a more dangerous route passing through the inconsistently inhospitable Southwestern United States. However, noticeable number of pro-immigration activists somehow maintain what seems a disingenuous manner of thinking.

They keep harping on how 'good' it is to let in these 'immigrants,' but they rarely (if ever) chose to answer the inconsistent fact of how many arrive into America. It's almost as if they WANT Hispanics to take over the United States.

Pathetically, this seems to be especially true for the Democratic Party. But, it's also becoming a regrettably increasing minority AROUND THE WORLD that is more often than not 'undocumented,' and sometimes even violent, aka ISIS in the costume of politically-driven 'migrants.'

The National Socialist Movement continues to educate whites around the world as to the dimensions of what is REALLY going on. We also urge direct, yet LEGAL means of showing our 'leaders' that we cannot and will not continue taking the self-serving philosophical rubbish that they have been literally feeding us for decades.

It is time they had THEIR legal 'just deserts!'

Why should a US Vet should support NSM?

The National Socialist Movement welcomes our heroes home!

We affirm you and your duty to uphold the Constitution. We salute your service and that of your co-warriors for our homeland. NSM is a political activist group that uses many of the same values and disciplines of your soldier training.

In America, homelessness and imprisonment with specters like PTSD and drug addiction threaten many of our warriors. But, good news is NSM gives camaraderie and support to each individual who joins us. We help with reintegration into a peaceful law abiding society. But, you because of your experience are positioned to organize and awaken our team units locally and regionally as we serve and care for the public.

You could prove yourself by merit and obtain rank and loyalty of our servicemen and women. Don't be a victim to giving up and depression. Each day has new light, hopeful opportunity and chances to make America stronger. We can do that through courage, integrity, wise and responsible teamwork – if we are united and strong. Share your Passion and dreams for this nation. JOIN NSM today!

United to stop prison recidivism and End Homeless and Jobless Stagnation!

NSM has an active prison outreach ministry-like program. Our society values prisoner reputation and street macho-ism higher than correction, personal virtue and traditional American values. We change that one life at a time. We give those who join us the chance to write letters, visit and mentor inmates so they can 'learn from their mistakes' that got them into trouble – even if it was a false charge or lack of smarts – wrong place, wrong time or wrong behavior.

We advocate justice and character growth, but denounce violence and terrorist extremism in all forms. Our patriots are literate, loving America and want to push back at the moral degeneracy and social decline of poverty.

We have a compassion to serve and assist the needy. Single parent homes are the number one cause of abortions and cohabitation as marriage flounders and people seek convenience instead of fidelity to absolute religious teachings. Our people are being discriminated against because of a culture that does not respect authority, support elected representation in an accountable government, and live as individuals the ideals of heroism, loyalty and honor, character with integrity, and a responsibility to do unto others as you would have them do to you.

See our website at www.NSM88.org for information about how you can join and help our cause. It all begins with you White America – wake up, the time for passive inactive laziness and welfare is long gone. The needs are great but the resources of One People working for prosperity and freedom of mind expressed in action are truly something we can depend on indeed.

Border Control is a sign of US lack of self-control and an indulgence problem.

The Hispanic dream for America is a sick disaster – in exchange of traditional values we get a workforce, although graduating and looking good with skills it lacks the spirit that defines American identity: It lacks modesty, willingness to cooperate with the US government and people, it lacks sensitivity to White families. In saying it is tolerant of others' opinions it denigrates anything except humanism, taking jobs, and breaking apart families.

We can solve these national problems best if we work together. Loving treatment of refugees is not the same as letting them have health care, schools, or being elected to town councils and community leadership. In our opinion Amnesty is just another liberal bailout with money from the next generation. As humans we need not emphasize equality if it pulls down the ethnic White Protestant urban and rural strength of our people. If those who speak SPANISH vote democratic by over 2/3, compared to Republican 1/6 and independent 1/6, then we must surely say, "We don't want you to infiltrate and change America for your own advantage!"

Can't we problem solve in a way free of judgment to stop gun trafficking, drug sales, gangs, terrorists entering and leaving as they will while the feds look the other way and not enforce a tight sealed border wall?

If Americans blame foreigners perhaps we should do the field agriculture jobs, or be willing to do housework instead of relying on others. The technology of automation brought progress but we haven't spent our time gained responsibly.

Americans are becoming obese watching football and the Simpsons cartoons instead of coming to our brothers' need. Do not promise a refugee a handout because what is given free is not earned and cheats everyone. The Founding Fathers, Puritans and Pilgrims came here for a country to live in freedom and righteous living – not for a chance to make money, own homes, or see children graduate from college.

These people who came before us sometimes made the best of economic less but their reliance upon their own divine spirituality and each other inspires us to carry on with a belief and desire to return the United States to the greatness that we so have so nearly forsaken out of love of materialist comfort. That's why capitalism and the socialist revolution are not solutions to our problems. We must support nation-building, a state that we can all help and defend, living ideals by work and frugality, and helping families play and stay together to strengthen our towns and cities. We want our children productive too!

No, dividing our country because of self gratification and stealing others' opportunities just makes us all poorer. Kindness and forgiveness demand concern for our brothers' needs; we invite you to read our website www.NSM88.org. See how you can help, and whatever you do, Join now!
