ENG 401

THE PROBLEM OF WHITENESS

"This course uses literature and rhetoric to look at how stories shape people's understandings and experiences of race. It encourages students to question popular talk about race and racial identity, race in the news, poetry, film, and TV. This is an interdisciplinary course, so students will draw on history, literature, speeches and cultural changes – from scholarly texts to humor. The class is designed to empower students to confront the difficult and often thorny issues that surround us today and reach thoughtful conclusions rather than display gut reactions. A university is an academic environment where we discuss and debate a wide array of viewpoints."

The National Socialist Movement (NSM NSM88.ORG) is shocked and dismayed to uncover a decidedly anti-white class at Arizona State University. By its title, the senior-level ENG 401 - Studies in American Literature/Culture: U.S. Race Theory & the Problem of Whiteness seems to be decidedly against white people.

According to The Pundit Press (<http://thepunditpress.com/2015/01/22/arizona-stateuniversity-offers-class-on-the-problem-of-whiteness/>), Campus Reform (<http://campusreform.org/?ID=6225>) and later by The Federalist Papers (<http://www.thefederalistpapers.org/us/white-asu-professor-teaches-problem-of-whiteness-class>), readings in the creative writing class taught by Assistant Professor Lee Bebout are decidedly anti-white.

The controversial university 'textbooks' include: The Possessive Investment in Whiteness, by George Lipsitz, which according to its advertisement in Amazon.com is "Attacking the common view that whiteness is a meaningless category of identity." Other resources used in the class also include the disturbing treatise, Everyday Language of White Racism, by Jane H. Hill.

The existence of such a negative class was brought to the attention of National Socialist Movement leadership by Harry Hughes, Director for the NSM Region 11 of which Arizona is a part. "Classes promoting racial hatred or animosity towards any ethnic, religious or racial group have no place in a taxpayerfunded state university," said Hughes.

"If this anti-white filth were taught as questioning any other minority group besides white people, it would have been booted out on its academic ear," said Jeff Schoep, Commander of the National Socialist Movement.

The National Socialist Movement is a non-violent pro-white sociopolitical organization with units across the United States, and affiliates around the world.

REPORT FROM DENMARK

By Føreren

Denmark cannot offer great nature; beautiful mountains or wild animals, such as other European countries can. But Denmark has something, something which every Dane is not only proud of, but also can't do without – the water, beaches, and hundreds of small islands with practically no infrastructure.

Not only are these islands popular among Danes, but millions of tourists come to visit the various islands each year, and experience the peace and beauty there. But when you ask for the opinion from another group, let's say Syrian refugees, the experience is completely different: It's downright boring.

Samsø, a Danish island, is housing a group of Syrian refugees – and they are not happy about the situation. The Syrians, that is.

So far from the Foreign Office (Udlændingestyrelsen) and Red Cross, they say, is too tough for them to handle. And besides, it is way too dull when they are not in the cinema, internet cafes, the gym, or in other ways are on some arrangements arranged - and paid for – by the municipality, (Kommunen) the refugees say.

"When you are on an island away from everything else, you become sad and scared," Muhammed Bassel, a Syrian refugee adds. "The refugees paid money to get here, and they demand to get something in return!"

NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT CONDEMNS PRESIDENT OBAMA'S ABUSE OF EXECUTIVE POWER FOR IMMIGRATION

On November 20th, 2014, United States President Barack Obama issued a statement trumpeting his executive action aimed at streamlining immigration. The National Socialist Movement (NSM88.ORG) believes that, not only are such orders tantamount to 'amnesty' for illegal immigrants (aliens), but such an executive order will be additionally divisive to the already divided American Congress.

This is the truly defining issue of our generation. Such mass amnesty is the key to implementing the entire globalist agenda in the United States as well as around the world. If the legalized attack of non-indigenous peoples is not beaten back, America risks wide-scale bloodshed that will almost certainly cause the situation to degrade into ethnic conflict as it has in other corners of the Earth.

This is not a 'white-only' issue, but of vital interest to various non-white ethnic groups. Inherent prime agendas can be put aside for the time it takes to stop the unseating of the power structure by such an unconscionable action.

Mass amnesty is in fact a declaration of war on White America, and an effrontery by the Obama Administration towards law-abiding citizens in this country. Republicans are caving in to Obama, in the pathetic notion that by catering to Latinos they will somehow hold onto power. Amnesty will not be tolerated by the American people, and those who promote the destruction of our sovereignty must be pursued to the fullest extent of the law until they are caught and punished.

Commander Jeff Schoep's Speech NSM Toledo Rally, April 18, 2015

Hello Toledo, Ohio. We are the National Socialist Movement, Detroit Michigan. The National Socialist Movement is not a hate group, contrary to what the local media might spew about our organization. There is nothing hateful about standing up for your people. It is a right. We were here in Toledo in 2005, ten years ago. The Anarchists, the Communists incited the Blacks to riot and ruin this community. Now we see some of their supporters out here today. I can see them. The same people who set fire to this city. Chanting against us, speaking against us. It is quite hypocritical if you ask me.

Black leaders stand up for Black people. You have Mexican people standing up for Mexican people and La Raza. White people should have the right to stand up for White people and that's where it starts and ends. That's why we were here in 2005, because Black criminals were attacking White people. And that is why we are back here today. We have been requested to be here by citizens of Toledo, Ohio.

The crime rate in this city has not improved. It has gotten worse and worse. We are standing here on behalf of our people and the White citizens of this city. The decay and the crime – it's the same issues in 2005 we are facing here today in 2015.

The National Socialist Movement is a White Civil Rights organization. There is nothing wrong with each race having its own civil rights organization, its own people standing up on behalf of their rights. When Jesse Jackson comes to town you don't have protesters out here protesting against him because he is Black. Yet our adversaries, the enemies of the White race, the enemies of our people stand out there and call us 'hate mongers' when we are standing up on behalf of our people, White people and the citizens of Toledo that we are here to represent today.

So what we like to ask when you come out here to look at the National Socialist Movement is to open your eyes and open your ears and listen to what is being said. Don't prejudice. We are not a hate organization. If being hateful is standing up for your people and your people's rights then 'yes,' you can call us a hate group all you want. We are the most hateful people on the face of the planet, standing up for your rights. Yes, that is who we are.

The National Socialist Movement has been active on the borders in the Southwest. We've put people on the borders where this government, the United States government refuses to do so our people have been down there – the same situation here today.

The National Socialist Movement is the vanguard of the White Race, standing here on behalf of our people. On the barricades. The White Race will not be extinguished from this earth. Not today Not tomorrow. Not ever. As long as there is breath on the White man's soul, we will be fighting on behalf of our people, no matter what. Understand that.

Understand that we are not your typical white Americans. We are not your typical white American males, your metro-sexual types that are rampant in today's society. We are real men and real women. We are standing up here today on behalf of our people, standing up for what we believe in. Those that speak against us out here, I see your faces, Communists, anarchists, the same people who set fire to this city in 2005 and blamed us.

We weren't setting any fires, we weren't causing any riots, we weren't shooting anybody, killing anybody. We weren't doing anything except standing up for our rights for our people. Yet you burned your own city down. Why is that? What kind of sick hypocrisy is that?

You Communists and Anarchists -- Understand this: The cure for Communism is National Socialism. And the cure for anarchism is National Socialism.

When we are in charge and we are in power in government don't think that your red flag and your banners and your Anarchy are going to fly because they are going to be stomped into the ground where they belong. And understand this: We thank the police for being here today and we appreciate that but we did not ask the police to be here today.

We don't need the police here today. We don't ever need the police here on our behalf. The police are here for your protection. Understand that. And to keep the peace. So be thankful, very thankful for that.

We are true American patriots just like our ancestors like Jim Bowie, like Davy Crockett, like the men who fought and died at the Alamo. That's what you see here today. If our forefathers were alive today -- if George Washington was here today he would be standing alongside the National Socialist Movement. We are the true American patriots, some of the few left in this day and age.

We have the corruption of the Republicans, of the Democrats this two party sham. They are all the same. They ask who are you going to vote for? The Democrats? The Republicans? It's the same two-sided Jewish coin with the same string pullers, the same puppet masters.

We need a real change in this country. You have an economy that is depressed here, in the city of Toledo and in cities like Detroit. You have a depressed economy. You have thousands of people of all generations and categories that are out of work. Why is that? Because there is something inherently wrong with two party, corrupt, dictatorship of the Republicans and the Democrats. It needs to be overhauled and replaced.

Voting for a third party at this point in time, it doesn't even matter what party that is, but of course we want you to vote National Socialist, but any third party vote is better than voting for the Jew two party dictatorship of the Republicans and the Democrats. We as a nation are not going to improve and not going to get out of this recession or depression if we do not make change and that change has to come from the ground up. The political system needs to be replaced, overhauled. National Socialism can do that. We can cure the ills of this society.

The fight for independence is on. Understand that. We will no longer tolerate the Republicans and the Democrats shaming this country, making America hated in all quarters of the globe. It's the same thing. Oh, you guys don't like Obama. It has nothing to do with Obama. It could be Obama, it could be George Bush. It's the same thing. It's the same corruption year after year after year.

Why is it that America is not looked upon with pride as it once was? Why is that? Why are we hated in other countries around the world? Why? Supporting a Zionist terrorist state in Israel? That's one. Butchering Palestinians in Gaza and on the West Bank by the Israeli Zionist war machine? That's another. Why does the government continuously prop up Israel ? Why is that? Ask yourself that. Listen. Think. Think for yourselves.

We are the first generation to not have it as good as our parents and our forefathers before them. Why is that? People of races and cultures and creeds should be concerned at this situation that our country is in. It is a serious, serious problem that we are facing. And the Democrats and the Republicans, those traitors in Washington D.C.; those are the ones that are corrupt. The people need to rise up against the corrupt decadent system and do something about it.

Stop supporting the Democrats and Republicans the Zionist terror regime. Start thinking for yourselves. Stop being blind. It's a war for our survival being fought right now on the streets of this nation. Right now. You can choose to stand and fight or you can be mowed down by this system, by this evil corrupt system. The choice is yours.

In the changing face of this nation in the country that we see from the illegal immigration that is overwhelming our borders, we are hearing the Spanish language being spoken all over this country. This is supposed to be America to speak English here. You can't go to Mexico and expect to learn English in the schools and expect to speak it, because it is a Spanish speaking country. And it should be. Their culture do not belong here in our country forcing us to adapt. Because we don't need to adapt. This nation was founded by white men and white men alone. And we will take this nation back. We refuse to see this nation shamed.

Only though National Socialism can we cure this problem, this sickness. It's like a cancer. You knock out that cancer. The cancer is the system the Jew party dictatorship of the Republicans and the Democrats. And once that sickness is taken out of this nation and we replace it with something good and wholesome then once again we will have things to be proud of we will be able to be looked upon by the rest of the world with pride, with something they can look up to; a true powerful America with America first policies. That's what we are fighting for.

And we are here, as I said because the crime rate in Toledo has not improved. The white citizens are still being victimized here. And the recession has hit this city harder than many places in this country. We understand that, being from this area in the Midwest. The cure for our Nation's ills is National Socialism.

I'd like to thank the brave men and women who have stood up here today. The National Socialist Movement is the vanguard of the White race and we are here for our people. I know that there are people out there listening today who are here to hear our message. I hope you can hear us over the Communists and the red flags and the anarchists. You know how to get a hold of us. Our banners are here. You can write us, you can email us, you can call us. Get in touch. Get active; because only through activism and through the streets can we command a change in this nation.

Thank You
White Power

After Action Report
National Socialist Movement National Meeting & Rally
April 17-18, 2015 – Toledo, Ohio
Story and Photos by SS Capt. Harry L. Hughes III
Producer, NSM Media

On Friday, April 17, 2015, members, supporters and friends of the National Socialist Movement converged on the city of Toledo, Ohio, for our 41st annual national meeting. Our banquet hall was located in a peaceful suburban neighborhood, where children were playing baseball in a field, across the street. A couple of passing motorists even stopped to take photographs of us and offer their support.

Comrades from near and far, indulged in a fine meal and camaraderie. NSM Commander Jeff Schoep kicked off the meeting with a speech and rank promotions. New members were also patched in. Most of the speakers focused on the failure of the Democrat vs. Republican monopoly and the causes of our nation's economic failure and social demise. Rampant corruption on all levels of government have caused great harm to our once great nation. National Socialist economic strategy, fiscal responsibility and a dramatic shift in our foreign policy are key to rebuilding our country. After we concluded our business, the meeting was adjourned.

Following the meeting, some comrades prepared for Saturday's public rally in downtown Toledo, while others socialized at a local eatery. NSM Media made preparations to live stream audio and video of the rally, with Aryan Knight of NSM Weekend was reporting live at the event. For the first time, people were able watch and listen to the rally live and uncensored. We also learned of a police 'exclusion zone' that encompassed several city blocks around the rally location. Businesses would be closed and parking restricted.

All media were required to check in and obtain credentials.

By noon of April 18, 2015, our members, friends and supporters assembled for the motorcade to the rally venue which was put on 'lock down' by the Toledo Police Department.

In 2005, Communists, black agitators and anarchists rioted, looted and damaged property in Toledo. The biased media and local political officials unjustly blamed the N.S.M. for these violent and unlawful actions. It's typical of the left to blame others for the actions and failures of their own. After entering a tight security gauntlet, we assembled at a designated staging area, while a police helicopter circled and SWAT snipers positioned themselves on nearby rooftops.

We proudly marched up to the front steps at One Government Center, and observed approximately 150 counter protesters holding signs and Communist flags as they spewed obscenities. One person, consumed with hatred threw his cell phone, which landed harmlessly, on the steps behind the formation of riot gear clad police officers. Commander Jeff Schoep was the first to speak and delivered what has been proclaimed as one of his career's best. Topics focused on political corruption, failed policies, illegal immigration, crime and economics.

This wasn't the message of 'hate,' 'racism,' or 'intolerance' the crowd was expecting to hear, and it became rather quiet, at times. People were actually listening to what we had to say. In the days before the rally, mainstream media, along with community agitators,' did their best to create an atmosphere of fear and danger in order to discourage people from attending the rally and hearing our message.

Arthur Jones, a longtime friend of the NSM and military veteran, gave a very passionate 'old school' National Socialist speech. Jones has been active in several groups over the last four decades, including the America First Committee, a group he said he founded "to combat the dual evils of Communism and Zionism." Captain Brian Culpepper, NSM Public Relations Director and Host of NSM Worldtalk, also gave one of his more illuminating addresses.

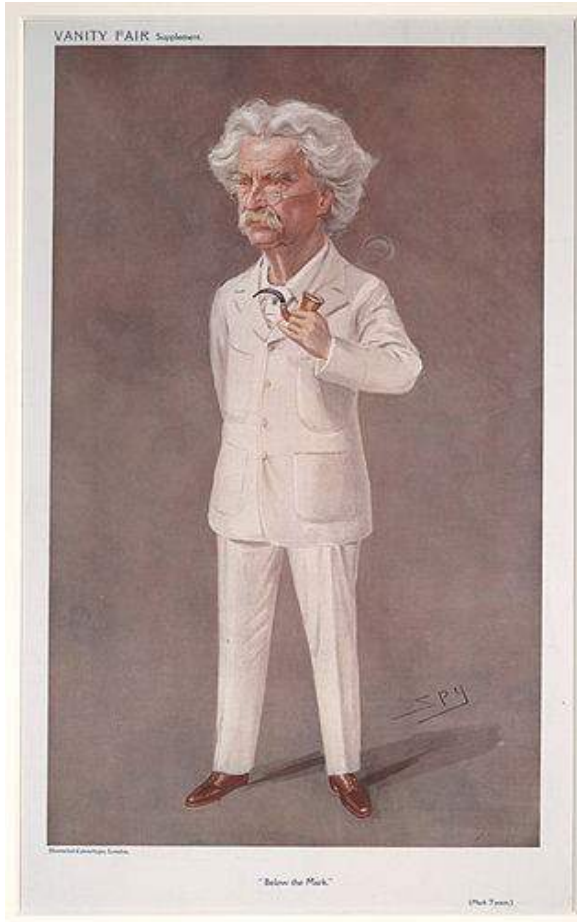

At the conclusion of the rally, we formed a marching column and made our way to the parking structure behind our venue. Almost immediately, anarchists and other miscreants attempted to flank our column and cause disruptions. Tactical police units maneuvered around them and maintained order as we departed the downtown area without incident.

After our successful meeting and rally, the business of the day was complete and many of us visited a nearby establishment for food and fun. We looked back on the day's events and looked forward to the next gathering that will take place in November.

HUMOR: MARK TWAIN ON AMERICA (THEATRICAL FICTION)

There are so many things wrong with America and the rest of the world, that I cannot fathom how we have stayed unaware, or even ignored the signs. So, I shall ask the immortal character of Mark Twain (often played on stage by the esteemed actor, Hal Holbrook) to elaborate. Imagine you are in a performance theater, and on stage...

TWAIN: You know, I'm told the National Socialist Movement is increasing in power. I never did like short haircuts, but I suppose their Midwest sensibilities are admirable. You know, in my day, they called my book, Huck Finn, 'racist,' 'cause I had a figure called Negro Jim, or something of the sort. I can't seem to remember HE had short hair or not.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: Imagine me...racist. I'm not racist. I just happen to think the WHOLE human race is a joke perpetuated on the creator, the cosmos, karma, or whatever anyone calls the supposing overriding force of reality holding our world together.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: I believe in the dignity of ALL people...except when they act like HUMAN BEINGS instead of PEOPLE. Of course, I'm not too sure of which I should be MORE afraid of these days – HUMANS, or PEOPLE. Frankly, I'm still wary of BOTH. The jury's still OUT on that one!

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: Of course, I'm not too thrilled with juries, either. And I definitely am suspect of all judges any way, too, on general principles and precept.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: I sound like a LAWYER, don't I?! Must the white suit, though I do fancy it.

(AUDIENCE CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: You know...Shakespeare WAS RIGHT! “First, throw all lawyers into the sea,” he said. Though the popular joke of the day would have them surviving by the mutual and ostensibly ‘professional courtesy’ being that the sharks of the sea would NOT eat them...especially in the United Kingdom, with their legal wigs and all. The sharks would have to be picking hair out of their TEETH.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: Actually, I hear that in YOUR TIME, lawyers are having almost as much troubles as DOCTORS because of large amount of government regulations and the sort. I knew a lawyer once or twice in my life, which...believe me...each time was more than QUITE enough...and, from what I hear, dumping all the lawyers into the sea would cause such a calumny of pollution that the meltage of the polar ice caps would dramatically increase, causing flooding in Washington, D.C. Heaven forbid that anything even remotely ‘natural’ were to happen in THAT town!

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS AND APPLAUDS)

TWAIN: The lawyer once told me that my writing riled up many of the people in one particular town,...I forget WHICH ONE it was to be honest...and he said that I should cease and desist and move on.

(AUDIENCE CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: I told him that as a published writer who had been syndicated in many of this nation’s newspapers, I would not stand for such inconsequential rubbish...or loss in reprint revenues!

(AUDIENCE CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: I also told him that I would sometimes only think about how I should WRITE such inconsequential rubbish while awaiting my bowels to evacuate while sitting upon a toilet, and that I found such belligerent and insolent deviance from honest reality is about as attractive and enticing as the waste products emanating from my digestive system and tract!

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: He didn’t seem necessarily to like that, since I apparently referenced him as routine, human biological waste. He said I was blowing smoke up something-or-the-other. Pity, as that was probably quite accurate (at least in nearby physiognomy) for the fellow.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: In retrospect, maybe he disliked more being called ‘routine.’

(AUDIENCE CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: I had the feeling, however, that I was not the first to call him ‘biological waste!’ at the very least!

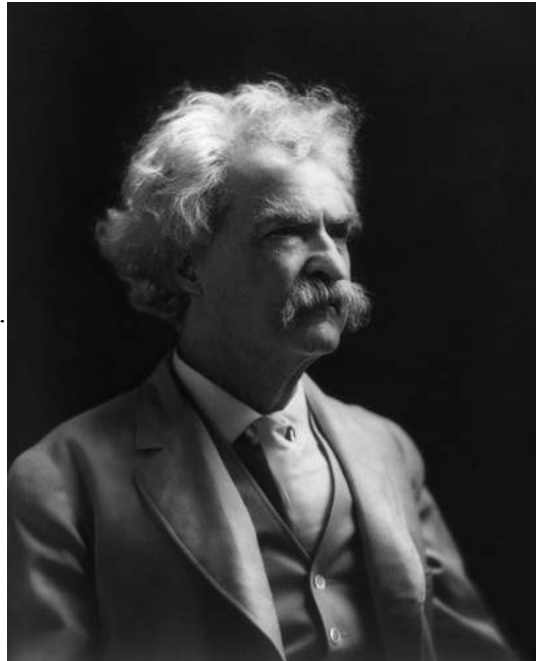

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: At any rate, I have watched the people of your time from heaven or hell, or wherever what’s left of my feeble body and brain may reside for eternity. I understand there have been issues with a few Muslims.

(AUDIENCE GASPS)

TWAIN: Maybe the most radical Muslims have had it correct to a degree. Some of the more violent ones have said that when they blow themselves and unsuspecting infidels up to the skies, they will encounter 70 virgins.

(AUDIENCE NERVOUSLY CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: However, to me, that would Hell! I would at least prefer ONE at least passably desirable woman with as much experience as she might have had before her wedding night. That saves a lot of fumbling around and the sort, per se. It isn't the violent people who confuse me -- it's the both sexes of men and and women...and apparently everything in-between these days.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: I look at you people, and see boys acting like girls, and girls acting like boys. I imagine this may cause more than some degree of confusion...at least for ME!

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: I’ve seen the hairlines of your men in America and abroad recede along and above the temples. I won’t if it’s the food you eat, or the excessively tight pants some of your young men tend to wear. I think SOMETHING obscene and gross must be poisoning the development of proper hairlines. Most every young man in your time now seems to have a ‘widows peak’ that has until now been reserved for crazy old men who had torn their hair out, or those suffering from some untoward and incurable disease. And, I'm not really talking about the gays especially either.

(AUDIENCE LAUGHS)

TWAIN: When I lived in San Francisco, I had no ideas about the gays. I only thought that some of the men were trying to be oddly, and overly, athletic in ways in which I could not fathom. Apparently, neither could the fairer sex find such of their reprehensible behaviors understandable, NOR attractive. But, I suppose, that this is your society...a society to which I am NOT entirely entranced thereof!

(AUDIENCE LIGHTLY APPLAUDS)

TWAIN: In my day, men were men, and women were wonderful. Of course, I suppose should a WOMAN be writing this, she may or may not call the male species 'wonderful,' but I digress... hopefully, of course!

(AUDIENCE CHUCKLES)

TWAIN: So, while the writer of this character thinks he has channeled me towards exploiting my comedic mirth, I will likewise challenge him to report even more clearly the goings-on of your time and society. I am sure that it would be more amusing than any observation this wry spirit might put forth and entail. Just ask any of my characters, and they will tell you...especially if they're lawyers!

(AUDIENCE APPLAUDS)

Broadway in New York City in 1885, before it became the theatrical host to plays such as this visualized dramatization.

Some Thoughts On White National Socialism

Essentially, first and foremost, I believe that National Socialism arises from various 'folk' beliefs in which the village (and later, towns) were among the most important things to people. Why? Because they shared the common bond of living there and constantly interacting with each other.

Even with documented historical migrations of people, certain areas of the globe have always seemed to have one or more ethno-genetic-types of people. Oh, sure there have been 'anomalies.' Many came to North America during the 17th century on forward from Europe because of evolution in the perception of freedom versus taxation. Blacks came to America as slaves during the 19th century (as some suggest via ships partially funded by Jewish entrepreneurs). And the Irish came to America a bit later when their predominant cash crop (and food source), potatoes, suffered an ecological disaster. And, we cannot forget the displacement of peoples during modern world wars.

But, by and large, Western, Central, and Eastern Europeans have kept bio-socio variations of their own culture. Russians have remained quite Russian. Chinese are different from Japanese. Yet, Americans have continued evolving into a multicultural mish-mash that somehow mixes the angry concern of "steel-belted bodies) of Paddy Chayefsky's movie, "Network," with that of cheesy songs, like "Everything is Awesome," from the Lego movie. But, alas, everything is not necessarily 'awesome.'

From our remembrances of history through its traditions of oral retelling, many of us still know our folk heritage. In a 'perfect world,' various ethnic minorities would not exhibit some what are considered 'alienating traits,' nor would white 'trailer trash,' for that matter! But, this is not a perfect world, and the perception of many of these 'alienating traits' by some visible ethnic minorities have offended what have been the core white values with flaunting and taunting against us.

Illegal aliens stream into America from Mexico and Central America, and are linguistically glorified into becoming "undocumented immigrants" or even most recently, a "humanitarian crisis."

In the free marketplace, Chinese are cleverly buying blocks of Manhattan as well as pieces of major American corporations. And hoards of 'gypsies' from economically-marginalized countries near the UK, Central Europe, and even Russia are trying to illegally infiltrate those societies without the expected courtesy of going through modern immigration procedures. Unfortunately, it often makes matters worse when some of these people at the same time denigrate the culture into which they are attempting to invade.

That's where National Socialism brings a more rational discussion.

Many of us believe that our 'allegiance' is to our white race, followed by the country to which we hail.

Contrary to the malignments by some, white National Socialists do not 'glorify' Hitler. Instead, he is a 'leitmotif' for a compellingly dramatic and efficiently functioning society.

Allusions and comparisons of white National Socialists to the World War II Germans might sometimes be minimally 'accurate,' but are not predominant valid in their entirety. However, truth be told, I am munching on bratwurst and sauerkraut as I write this. And, had I not taken allergy pills, I would very much like a beer, thank you, as well! It's a question of what would be your most preferred person-type to interact with in the 'rosiest' version of your world.

Some of us believe those people to be white.

These are MY thoughts, and NECESSARILY party dogma, which (fortunately) allows many complementary variations on this worldview. By the way, it's ironic that the NPD of Germany finds some disdain for an "industrial America." Given their country's economic challenges -- AND the often gross display of excess of corruption and in the United States -- I can't entirely blame them for their feelings.

ANTI-WHITE PREDJUDICE

In the interest of disclosure and covering my moderately-expansive...BEHIND (legally, at least), I have to start off by saying that I am not a lawyer, I do not play one on TV, and I am not giving out legal advice. I'm just a writer with my perception of some important information that I would like to put forth. Further, the commentary you are about to read is may or may not be endorsed by the National Socialist Movement. At any rate, a comrade who shall be nameless (and description-less) just lost their job recently. Apparently, they were seen by the boss of their small company (who apparently freaked), who fired them.

Before anyone in this esteemed electronic publication chastises me for using personal pronouns incorrectly in the preceding paragraph, we writers and journalists were using the word, 'they' to help protect the gender-identity of someone we were writing about long before political correctness coerced us into writing and saying, 'he' and 'she.' But frankly, I prefer 'they' and 'them.'

However protecting gender-identity (or identity of any kind for that matter) seems to be an unnecessary politeness for my fully-compensated fellow journos – especially if you are a 'neo-nazi'...errr...national socialist. In fact, there seems to be an almost perverse compelling need for the mainstream press to 'out' us. They feel that community opinion will motivate our bosses to discriminate against (and even fire) us. More often than not, it's at least a somewhat 'hostile' workplace for a 'found-out' national socialist. But why?

In case you didn't know, the majority of the population of the world seems to confuse the current state and expression of national socialism with that which occurred in Germany about 70 years ago. Because of whatever missteps-to-atrocities Hitler is alleged to have committed, rightfully, wrongly, or (quite likely) hardly-if-at-all, the Jewish people seem to want to make sure no other such alleged-to-real incidents should happen in the future. To do this, they have infiltrated and manipulated the media over the year to vilify any representation of Nazism, or even national socialism. This can be easily seen by simple internet research into the backgrounds of who owns and runs the media today.

While Commander Schoep correctly states that “We take the best of 'the right' and the best of 'the left,’” he is VERY correct. In fact, national socialism around the world is more concerned with a quasi-socialist philosophy that embraces each (usually white) nation, rather than the more common, garden-variety of communist-leaning socialism.

So when we say that we prefer a 'rightist' worldview that includes 'nuclear families' (instead of the a-ccurrant families with two 'dads' or two 'moms'), AND the supposedly 'leftist' predilection towards practical, 'green' stewardship of the planet, some people just can't wrap their tiny, little, brainwashed minds around such a concept.

First of all (and especially in any 'right-to-work' state), a small business owner can confront an employee and say, “I'm sorry, but I clearly saw you in that recent National Socialist Movement rally. You are a front-line employee who is very visible to my customers, and because they may not agree with your politics, I am going to have to let you go. I am concerned about how continuing and future customers will react to you. Although you probably feel strongly that your organization is 'legal' and what-not, this is a 'PR-matter' for me as a small businessman.” That would be the NICE departure. However, my comrade was given a far more 'summary' dismissal.

Regrettably, in a right-to-work state, it is 'legal' for a business to do this to an employee. However, the employee CAN state that, "My forcible exit from this job, for this reason, could be considered 'discriminatory' to my politics. And, although I know this is a 'right-to-work' state, I am prepared to make a federal complaint of this matter if I am so discharged."

Pragmatically, of course, we all can guess just how quickly and how well such complaints are dealt with under the current administration. Plus, since this is a CIVIL matter, you might need to retain an attorney to fight this type of unmitigated BS completely. And that means MONEY, which all of us have, but only to varying amounts. You get the idea...

So, what can you REALLY do? In a small town and/or small company, most managers and owners will unfortunately be cowards to one degree or the other. They have a small marketplace, they have been brainwashed, and in their little world, they expect any action that is too 'out-of-the-box' to immediately lose customers. It's much easier in larger companies to become more 'anonymous.'

As a TV show from the 1980's once said, "Wake up and smell the coffee crystals, baby!" Increasingly more Americans as well as people around the world are coming to understand the difference between 'national socialism' and 'neo-nazism.' And as the National Socialist Movement continues to introduce a continuing pro-white realization of our cause, we can only hope that incidents of anti-white racial injustice happen less over time. That is what we...errrr....YOU and I, would like to see happen.

A BOLDLY ENCOURAGING MESSAGE

This is the beginning of one of the greatest times in the history of western civilization. And we are to witness it for ourselves. The hypocrisy of so-called 'leaders' extorting from their own 'flocks,' and yet paradoxically deny them the prosperity enjoyed by non-minority companies...hoping that the perverse irony of this disparity will go unnoticed. They KNOW who they are.

The boldness of a vagabond peoples who are more questionably a 'religion,' and even more questionably a 'people.' Oh, how they intertwine themselves with the white masses as though their continued meddling cannot be spoken against. They KNOW who they are.

The politicians who are more interested in their hair or perceived military stance than they are rationally afraid of the devastating consequences of modern-day war! And the politicians who aspire to give away their, nay OUR countries to invading hordes. As has been said, "They would rather sell you down the river...[or even]...sell their souls" for the transitory reward of votes. They KNOW who they are. And those with 'social habits' beyond nature's norm. When the predominant intimate practices of one group of people brings dangers to themselves (yet the continue), is there any overt and lasting sensibility in their acts which they try to portray? They KNOW who they are. Hypocrites...hypocrites...hypocrites are they all. And yet, THEY call US the 'bad guys.' They also call us 'neo-nazis,' when in fact the only significant lasting tie to that time are the positive philosophies that came out of it and can lastingly transcend the ages.

We call many of them as they ARE – communists, anarchists, constitutional traitors and multicultural fools! Their philosophies and movements will not last (at least not in their present forms), and are being unveiled as they REALLY are. The forbidden fruit of insanity being is readily consumed by a generation or two that has more akin with insane pleasure-seekers going down a sadly nihilistic path towards inner and outer destruction of the human self.

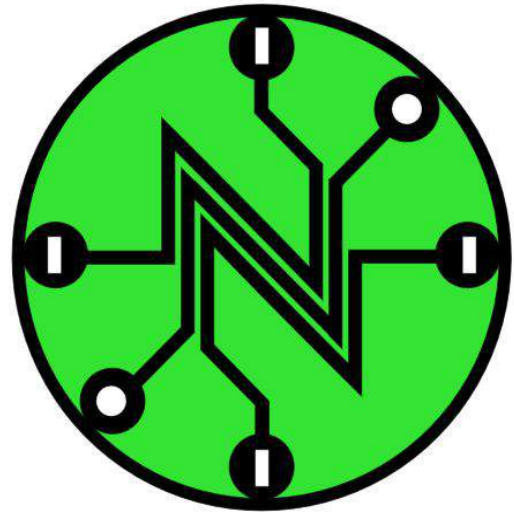

The inconsistencies of the leaders in relation to their flocks is being show as the curtain is being pulled back to reveal those behind the man, the myths, and the so-called magic.

We are beginning to SEE our politicians for what most of them seem to be. We are beginning to stop their reigns of tyranny by using their own laws and procedures against them with due process and in just the nick of due time. We are no longer the voices in the desert proclaiming what we see and hear – much of which is wrong, while far too little seems to remain right. We are allowing what is in reality the 'fringe elements' of society tear themselves and their movements apart unmercifully, often by their own devices. All the while, their follies become that more more clear, and their failings ever more pathetically transparent.

Yes, these are only my thoughts, but they just might be yours, too. Indeed, this IS the beginning of one of the greatest times in the history of western civilization. And we are to witness it for ourselves!

ABOUT NET NEUTRALITY

In deciding that common internet providers/carriers (internet service providers, or ISP's) cannot slow down certain bandwidth-intensive internet content providers (i.e. Netflix and Amazon) or charge extra for their use, the FCC embraced and imposed a time-tested policy of rational marketplace fairness. However, some carriers don't seem to want to 'get' it. Specifically, this policy decision forces ISP's to provide a consistent transmission platform, regardless of the technical 'heaviness' of the content.

Now before anyone says, “Hey, doesn't it cost them more to provide streaming video or music from Amazon and Netflix?”, read on. Yes, it does...IN THEORY. It may be more expensive to provide streaming services, but IF cellphone and internet service providers WERE TO PAY MORE TO INFRASTRUCTURE UPGRADES, RATHER THAN CORPORATE PROFITS, THE ISSUE WOULD BE AT LEAST MODERATELY MOOT. Hmm, sounds a little like National Socialism, doesn't it?

The vilified Adolf Hitler was charismatically emblematic as he was pragmatic. He decreed that government should have the power to regulate the use of private property for the good of the nation. While we cannot necessarily make such a cavalier statement today, we CAN say that the profit interest of companies must be tempered when it is in conflict with the public good. In case you need a brief history lesson to understand this, read on.

In the 1906, America enacted the Pure Food and Drug Act. Before that legislative proclamation, it was permissible to add sand to bags of sugar. I'm not kidding! Until then, profit motive allowed such consumer health atrocities! The government was acting in a nearly National Socialistic way to provide for universal food safety. It was a rational way of keeping people safe, and leveling an ethically unjust economic playing field.

Just like today's FCC affirmation of Net Neutrality sends a definite message to ISP's that they cannot discriminately charge more potentially data-intensive transmissions. Can they charge more OVERALL?

Of course they CAN. But, greater cost-scales (supposedly to 'cover' the costs of data-streaming) would be shared by ALL of the ISP's subscribers, and tempered by what the economic votes of consumers might bare. So, an ISP shocking its customers with too much of a price increase would likely face a 'penalty' of attrition. And the marketplace would create its own eventual equilibrium. Perhaps Hitler was right – Rational economics based on 'fairness' CAN work! Who would have thought it?

BE YOUR OWN NORDIC ELECTRONIC HERO, AND RESIST SPAM

When a French TV network was hacked by ISIS, I couldn't help think of another hack of sorts that was perpetuated against NSM Media. Over the past several years, NSM and its various parts has continued to evolve our critical response patterns towards a variety of systemic electronic intervention and attack. While certainly not perfect, like any successful socio-political entity, we recognize the need to keep in place and continually refine our methods of dealing with issues like spam, directed public relations 'hits,' denial of service attempts, and other similar problems. So, let's tackle one possible scenario that will help you. Suppose you get an email address that is spamming you with hundreds of emails a day. What can you do?

First, use your email's own software to block the email address. If the domain (.com) is one in which you do not expect to get email from again in the future (like womenwhosoundlikejoanrivers.com, for example), you can block that 'unique' domain as well.

Second, complain to YOUR email carrier AND the EMAIL CARRIER OF THE IDIOT(S) SENDING THE SPAM MESSAGE. They may need the COMPLETE HEADERS from a typical message when you submit the complaint. These are the blown-up-and-extended-beyond-belief 'TO' part of the email. This will usually provide (at least) the last four major country internet hubs that the message went through on its malicious way to you, as well as tons of other identifying information.

Next, run a COMPLETE virus scan of your computer with the most updated version of your computer's resident antivirus program. Also, if you have ANY inkling that your computer is not running ABSOLUTELY LIKE 'NORMAL,' run a more comprehensive antivirus scan with a more powerful too, such as Emsisoft's Antimalware (<https://www.emsisoft.com/en/software/antimalware/>). Reason why, is that with a REALLY bad, virus, trojan, or worm, the antivirus program on your computer can be COMPROMISED and give false 'safe' readings! And, yes, a FREE version of this is available as well!

Lastly, in America, you can forward the spam to the Federal Trade Commission at spam@uce.gov, or send a formal complaint to: <https://www.ftccomplaintassistant.gov/#crnt&panel1-1>. In case you're wondering, sending unwanted email in the United States is a FEDERAL offense, and can be prosecuted accordingly, because the internet travels over state lines!

Remember to BE YOUR OWN NORDIC ELECTRONIC HERO!

Make sure your family has a plan in case of an emergency. Before an emergency happens, sit down together and decide how you will get in contact with each other, where you will go and what you will do in an emergency. Keep a copy of this plan in your emergency supply kit or another safe place where you can access it in the event of a disaster.

DIAL 911 FOR EMERGENCIES

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. — We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient Sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world. — He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. — He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. — He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of People, unless those People would assent to the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right infinitely more desirable to tyrants than to their subjects. — He has called together legislative Bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. — He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the People. — He has refused for a long time, after such Dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of Invasion from without, and convulsions within. — He has endeavored to prevent the Population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Law for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands. — He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers. — He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their Offices, and the amount and payment of their Salaries. — He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither Swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their Substance. — He has kept among us, in Times of Peace, standing Armies without the Consent of our Legislature. — He has endeavored to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power. — He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our Laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation: — For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us: — For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States: — For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world: — For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent: — For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury: — For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences: — For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute Rule into these Colonies: — For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments: — For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with powers to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever. — He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us. — He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our People. — He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complement the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & Perniciousness parallelled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unprovoked in the mind of a civilized nation. — He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands. — He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the Inhabitants of one Province, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered by insult and injury. — A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free People. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their Legislatures to extend an unwarrantable Jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of conciliatory. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by the Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. — And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

WHITE DO WHITE PEOPLE ROAM (adapted from Wikipedia)

The Anglosphere refers to a set of English-speaking nations with a similar cultural heritage, based upon populations originating from the nations of the British Isles (England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland), and which today maintain close political and military cooperation. While the nations included in different sources vary, the term usually does not include all countries where English is an official language, although the nations that are commonly included were all once part of the British Empire.

In its most restricted sense, the term covers the United Kingdom, Ireland, the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, which post-British Empire maintain a close affinity of cultural, familial and political links with one another. In its least restrictive sense, the term also covers Nordic countries, and even indigenous white people of Central and Eastern Europe. Modern genetic studies confirm many of these interpretations.

THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM (adapted from Wikipedia)

A political spectrum is a system of classifying different political positions upon one or more geometric axes that symbolize independent political dimensions. Most long-standing spectra include a right wing and left wing, which originally referred to seating arrangements in the French parliament after the Revolution (1789–99). According to the simplest left–right axis, communism and socialism are usually regarded internationally as being on the left, opposite fascism and conservatism on the right. Liberalism can mean different things in different contexts, sometimes on the left (social liberalism), sometimes on the right (economic liberalism). Those with an intermediate outlook are classified as centrists or moderates.*

*NOTE: Graphic is adapted from several sources.

Political scientists have frequently noted that a single left–right axis is insufficient for describing the existing variation in political beliefs, and often include other axes for greater accuracy. Anarchists being one such descriptive 'problem,' as they are similar in some respects to the right with its preference of individual liberty, but also the right with its fondness of Marxism.

Though the descriptive words at polar opposites (and in between) may vary, often in popular bi-axial spectra the axes are split between socio-cultural issues and economic issues, each scaling from some form of individualism (government for the freedom of the individual) to some form of a mixture of communist and totalitarian governments for the welfare of the community. In this context, the contemporary American left is often considered individualist (libertarian) on socio-cultural issues and populist on economic issues by some, it is considered 'rightist' by others. The contemporary American right is often considered populist on socio-cultural issues, and individualist (varying degrees of libertarian) on economic issues. As can be seen, the issue-based definition often shift the description and even the direction of discourse.

As stated repeatedly by Jeff Schoep, Commander of the National Socialist Movement, “The NSM takes the best of the right and the left.” This means that while some of our stances may seem 'liberal,' they are merely just socially-responsible. This likewise also means that other NSM stances that might see 'rightist' are actually pro-democratic!

WORTHY KICKSTARTER/GOFUNDME CAMPAIGNS

Brian Culpepper wants to make us aware of a project that should be of interest. “America, An Autobiography,” seeks to provide a platform for Americans to define what America means to the them. The Kickstarter page for the project can be found here:

<https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/1153030772/america-an-autobiography>

Please consider supporting, through a pledge or simply by spreading the word, this effort to give Americans the opportunity to tell the story of their America, to let our voices define our country.

And if you like pizza and the free market ability of businesses to conduct business with whomever they want without government restriction, you might want to contribute to Memories Pizza in Walkerton, Indiana.

Empowered by one of the several laws aimed at allowing religious business owners to NOT server homosexuals or others whom they have a religious-based philosophical difference, the pizzeria stood tall and publicly made their service intents known.

<http://www.cnn.com/2015/04/02/living/indiana-religious-freedom-pizza-feat/index.html>

Then, even as lawmakers bowed to leftist pressure, owners of the restaurant began receiving death threats.

<http://www.cnn.com/2015/04/02/politics/indiana-religious-freedom-law-fix/index.html>

As CNN noted, “You can't preach 'tolerance' and 'acceptance' and threaten someone's life.” And because of the obvious inconsistency between what the left says goes for them, versus what goes for the 'outside world,' you might want to contribute to a fund that is gathering money for the owners of the restaurant.

<http://www.gofundme.com/MemoriesPizza>

Unfortunately, because of the threats of violence, Memories Pizza is closed for the time-being for its own safety.

NOTE: These funding appeals are not officially endorsed by the NSM, and may or may not reflect official policy on such matters.

Are Whites the 'Omega Man on Earth?'

By Kevin James

If you want to see a cool action-adventure movie, check out “The Omega Man,” a 1960's thriller starring Charlton Heston. It's the exquisitely produced adaptation of the old movie (starring Vincent Price in a well-played role), entitled, “The Last Man on Earth,” and based on the book “I Am Legend,” by Richard Matheson. Although you've heard this before, the premise IS simple.

Unspecified tensions between Far East militarized countries (probably including Russia) 'forces' the U.S. to develop a germ warfare bomb as 'defense.'

Of course (like many government activities in most any country), the tests go awry, and release tons of little, nasty microbes that kill most people. Of course, Charlton Heston is the military braniac doctor (Dr. Robert Neville) who just happens to have vials of the antidote. And naturally, when the pilot transporting him in a helicopter succumbs to the virus/plague-from-hell, Neville jabs some in his vein after the copter crashes, and moves the story of discovery along to the next scene.

Aside from the fact that Neville shacks up with a seductive black woman – who later becomes a deranged nut-case-by-way-of-near-zombiedom – Heston's character is one cool dude. But with all that aside, it made me wonder what WOULD happen if the human race was decimated so that only the freaks existed.

We would lose art, literature, philosophy, music, comedy and drama in films and television, introspective magazine articles...you get the idea. So, what does this mean?

Especially as white national socialists, we must not, and we CANNOT LET THE BEST OF OUR ANCESTRAL HERITAGE DIE...whether it be from a fictional plague, or from the denigration of anarchists and communists sub-intellectuals who see no beauty in art and no truth in the harmony of artistic beauty.

As a human being, Robert Neville was ultimately more concerned with his safety, rather than the continuance of the grand glories of the human race. While we can (and should) appreciate his psychological conflict, we have a road and yet another positive direction set out for us!

THE LAST WORD

By Kevin James
Managing Editor, NSM Magazine
Director, NSM Media

When we started out on this issue, it was pretty much completed before the 2015 Toledo Rally. The National Socialist Movement stood strong and stayed safe, and NSM Media brought reports, images, commentary and analysis, as well as two LIVE FEEDS from the event! Obviously, we REALLY got our pro-white message out even beyond our organization's past efforts. Of course, the technology end was the result of Aryan Knight literally cloning himself, and working almost overtime beyond belief. But, there were some lighter moments, such as when 'A.K.'s pet lizard decided to horn in on the show.

In the two weeks that followed the rally, we were confronted by events in America that practically hearkened back to the 1960's. Incidents of questionable, yet not-fully-determined police violence brought several American cities to partial stand-stills upon occasion. While we naturally sympathize to varying degrees with the disgust many blacks might have regarding the suspected inconsistencies of our law enforcement agencies, I think everyone reading this will agree that rioting is not the best way to put forth admired social commentary! Besides, such actions just reinforce the negative stereotypes that many minorities are trying to continue to move away from. But onwards and upwards.

In this issue of NSM Magazine, you will find (if you haven't already) a mixture of articles. Some of these come from our media outlets and our 'electronic patrons,' while other content is 'inspired' by the discussions, events, and people of our life and times. I think you'll especially find the Mark Twain Dramatized, as well as A Boldly Encouraging Message and Where Do White People Roam pieces of our NSM Magazine that will tickle your funny-bone, raise your spirits, and pique your intellect!

But of course, none of what you're reading would happen without the active engagement of YOU – the supporters, members and probates of the Nationalist Socialist Movement AS WELL AS OUR COMMAND STAFF!

Oh, and...(DRY SARCASM ALERT)...We can't forget the guys and gals in NSM Media, either, can we! Hope not. 'Cause, I CAN'T!
