NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT CELEBRATES SUPREME COURT SB 1070 DECISION AS VICTORY

According to Jeff Schoep, Commander of the National Socialist Movement, the decision of the United States Supreme Court to uphold a key element of Arizona's strict immigration law is a victory for his White civil rights group.

“The Court’s agreement with the ability of police to check on peoples’ immigration status while enforcing other laws proves without a doubt that we have been correct in our efforts. We have made people aware around the world that every country has the right to secure its own borders. And the fact that in the United States, many White Americans have become concerned about preserving this right makes this issue even more important,” according to Schoep.

The controversial law known as SB 1070 was signed into law by Arizona Governor Janice Brewer on April 23, 2010. Sections of the measure were later put on hold by District Court Justice Susan Bolton.

However, the law found itself to be heard by the Supreme Court in a relatively short amount of time.

Even mainstream political pundits in the media acknowledge that the “America First” rallies in Phoenix, Los Angeles, Las Vegas, and elsewhere across the nation have been one of the forces increasing the fervor of the dialogue, even in light of pro-illegal immigration counter-protests that had become almost vulgar in tone.

Most of those protesting against the immigration law took one of two paths. Some detractors focused on the supposed inhumanity of what are essentially criminals to continue their crime of illegally immigrating and to stay in America. Other detractors of the law went towards the speculative possibility of ‘racial profiling’ of those stopped by law enforcement once the law was passed.

However, according to Harry Hughes, spokesman for the Arizona unit of NSM who has seen first-hand the tragedy of the human smuggling, it was enough to make up his mind.

“Not only are they coming to this country illegally, the smugglers, or ‘coyotes,’ care more for money, and do not necessarily care for the Mexican people they’re transporting,” said Hughes. “This isn’t a matter of racial profiling!”

“These illegal aliens might think they are coming to this country for a better life. They’re not. These people are risking their own life!” Hughes explained. But the border situation became worse, with Mexican drug cartels often battling each other. Usually, innocent Mexicans were now becoming the victims...not only in the desert, but in their own suburban homes.

JR Smith of one of NSM’s newer units in North Texas says that his group is still considering following the path of his Arizona and California comrades. “They’ve got people being beheaded,” he says. “It’s worse than just illegals dying to get across the border now!”

“Many of us were expecting the Court to uphold more states’ rights, rather than to trample upon them.” Commander Schoep concluded. “Police now do have the recognized right to check the immigration status of potential illegal aliens. At least THAT is a significant victory in today’s liberal political climate.” Although the ‘open borders’ crowd continues to demonize its opposition as being ‘racist,’ Schoep vehemently disagrees with this weak argument. “It’s not ‘racist’ for anyone of any background to want control over their country’s borders,” he says. “It’s a matter of legal sovereignty and following recognized laws – something which may be ‘foreign’ to the Obama administration.”

The National Socialist Movement is the largest pro-White civil rights organization in America. It has chapters across America, and affiliates around the world.
