Historic Meeting between NSM Leaders and Black Civil Rights Leaders a Success. Despite attempts by the communist party and their anti-racist/anarchist allies to shut down the event, the event was a success, and brought both white and black groups to a panel discussion on racial issues affecting both of our communities. Full report to follow.
This is the 40th anniversary of the National Socialist Movement. We’re a front-line pro-white organization. That’s what we’re known for, and that’s what we’re all about. We’re the only organization on the street and on the borders. And, it’s an honor for me to serve with the men and women of this group. I’ve been involved with the NSM for 22 years, with 20 of those leading the organization. And I think it’s fitting that we talk about our history.

After Commander George Lincoln Rockwell was assassinated in 1967, there were factions in the organization. However, Robert Brannen brought many of these together in 1973 by reforming the National Socialist Movement. When I came into the National Socialist Movement, Cliff Herrington, told me in 1993, that Allen Vincent was running the National Socialist White Workers Party (NSWWP), and the movie, “California Reich” is based upon him. This was a movie I liked, but Allen actually hated for the way it portrayed him.

Movies and organization name changes aside, Herrington told me that Allen Vincent could breathe a spark into the NSM and really make things happen. And in 1998, he became my chief adviser until his death from cancer a couple of years later. When I was appointed to lead the organization, it wasn’t something I wanted. I was 18 or 19, so I depended on the veterans who served with Rockwell to learn from our mistakes.

One potential learning experience happened at a restaurant in which a likely federal informant tried to ‘wow’ us with talk of grenades and so on. However, I remember Cliff Herrington very calmly looking at the guy and asking to see his identification. This crazy-talk gets people put in jail! People who talk like this are either informants or idiots, and you don’t want to be around either of these types of people! All you have to do is tell these people, “No!” That’s the kind of system we’re up against.

The anarchists and the Communists are against us. In fact, the full-scale rioting in Toledo was urged on by them; yet they know it wasn’t us. Don’t buy into these attempts to co-op us or each other! Don’t say anything you wouldn’t say in a police station or a church. We know what our rights are. We need to be able to fight this fight to the end and stay the course. We are the National Socialist Movement! Phoenix and Trenton were similar situations.

Reds and anarchists violently trying to shove their political agendas down the throats of communities. Battle scars for the organization! We’ve been all over the country, and we were told we ‘couldn’t go’ to Los Angeles, so we went anyway! Riverside and the Brown Berets protesting at the house of the late Jeff Hall also degenerated into that violent group being run out of the neighborhood. Then, there was ‘The Brawl in St. Paul’…

When we talk about honoring the memories of Commander Rockwell and the past, it’s important to note that we wear the brown shirt uniform on ceremonial occasions to honor April 20, Rockwell, and the roots of the organization. But, we’ve grown exponentially as a group since we changed the uniform to black BDUs in 2008. We modernized and moved forward. If we fast-forward to now, of all the major purely National Socialist movements, we are the last one standing. And, that’s something to be PROUD of -- let’s DO this! And when I say that, I’m not trying to take away from our brothers and sisters in other pro-white organizations. We respect them all. But, if you are a National Socialist in America, you are probably a member or supporter of the National Socialist Movement.

For those of you reading all this history and these war stories, you now have some idea as to how our enemies try to go against us, and how we are winning the hearts of minds of white people around the word. We are white nationalists, separatists, and pro-white activists – That’s NSM! And, if our founding fathers were alive today, they would be fighting right alongside of us. YOU are the warriors and heroes of this generation!
Every April and November, the National Socialist Movement holds a public rally, meeting and other party related activities in an American city. This time, we chose Kansas City Missouri. As can be expected, city officials cringe at the prospect of our group coming to their town. Often, they resist and impose numerous restrictions, many of them ridiculous, upon us to make our visit as difficult as possible. Despite the issuance of a venomous city council resolution, the N.S.M. was still coming. We were NOT going to back down.

On Friday, November 8, 2013, I attended a meeting at the Kansas City police Department and high ranking police officials weren't the slightest bit bashful about telling us that they were taking it upon themselves to suspend the Constitution of the United States. We put the question to them and they said, "Yes!" This is what happens when a big city police department bows to the corrupt officials in city government. Don't forget, police officers swear an oath to defend the Constitution. In Kansas City, the police are nothing more than corporate mercenaries, who are all too eager to blindly and obediently serve their masters, while stepping on the rights of law abiding citizens.

Come Saturday November 9, 2013, the rally went on, despite strong objections from the Kansas City government, the controlled media, Communists, anarchists and just about every sort of degenerate the leftist could possibly muster. An intense media campaign was launched to wrongly demonize the National Socialist Movement and misstate its' goals and intentions.

The rally got off more than 45 minutes late because of the Kansas City Police Department's obstructionist attitude and the long drawn out process of searching everyone. The police originally were going to forbid us from bringing water bottles and our flags on poles. Believing that matter was worked out, we brought them, only to be hassled over the water bottles. Bending over backwards to keep us (and the counter protesters) from re-hydrating was purely asinine and outright vicious. Let's not forget, time consuming.

Thank the hostile and hateful Kansas City government for their "intolerance". The police also banned camera tripods. The time came and our people gave their speeches. Commander Schoep drove the message home, along with distinguished guests from other organizations, including Aryan Nations and the Traditionalist Youth Movement. Also speaking, was a supporter who emerged from the crowd and Craig Cobb, who recently became the target of the Southern Poverty Law Center's hateful campaign that targeted his desire to form a White community in remote Leith, North Dakota.
One counter protester was arrested, after throwing money towards the N.S.M. lines. Despite the strict security measures, the "anti-racist" hate mongers still found things to throw at us. Remember, the real haters were across the street from us (and inside the Kansas City government).

Following the rally, our motorcade exited the unfriendly city and returned to our hotel. Many of us visited a local dining venue and were well received by the restaurant staff. I was also pleasantly surprised when a couple and their young son stopped by our tables and introduced themselves. Moments earlier, rally organizer and Region 6 director, Buddy Rumble exercised a simple common courtesy and let a woman enter the building before him. Apparently, manners can go a long way. The media masters and their onslaught of propaganda failed to make this family buy the stereotype specially cooked up for them.

No N.S.M. rally would be complete without swastika lighting. Our ceremony was held outside city limits and despite a local burning ban, the police in this jurisdiction were far more accommodating than the Kansas City Police Department. Using torches, our symbol was illuminated. Our "arrangement" with the local police wasn't completely without condition. We remained peaceful, civil and did not disturb anyone. Upon completion of our ceremony, we mounted up and returned to our hotel.

Once again, the National Socialist Movement conducted a public rally and after event without violence and arrests. Apparently, the Kansas City City Council had us all wrong, when they labeled us a "violent organization."
KANSAS CITY RALLY – DEEP POST-ANALYSIS
BY KEVIN JAMES

Due to finances, I spent most of Saturday evening anxiously scanning the internet instead of at the NSM’s rally in Kansas City, Missouri. As part of the NSM Media crew promoting and covering the event, I was well aware of the potential dangers being faced by those who actually attended. Cheers to them! But, there were some bumps in the road that you might find interesting. These are all from published news reports, so I’m not spilling any confidential beans. But, I’d like to put all of this into some kind of perspective.

Let’s look backwards first an interesting tidbit. One media outlet called Commander Schoep “a businessman.” I guess a dignified black suit works wonders. Last time the media accidentally legitimized us, a black news anchor called us a “White civil rights organization.” Damn, straight, lady, and thanks to all of you!

The Kansas City (MO) City Council shocked many by putting out an advance resolution against the rally. It read like they were actually afraid of us. However, to those of us in the NSM, the resolution really sounded more like city council was convinced of the persisting (and inaccurate) stereotypes that have been perpetuated by the media as well as practically any group against us. NSM command staff put out a press release eloquently countering the resolution.

The press release pointed out that, while we are not lawyers, we as intelligent men and women could readily see how the city council urging citizens to “morally confront” our group could lead to violence by anyone reading (and taking) the document at face value. It also pointed out that any such violence committed accordingly could make the Kansas City (MO) City Council possibly identifiable as being liable to some degree for any such actions. A few other curious things happened late last week.

The city council took the video of their ratifying the resolution off their website. Nolo contendere? Perhaps, but any mea culpa in this direction might only be indirect as best. However, it was more likely just a move to limit their PR embarrassment. Then, it gets a little weird.

With more threats of varying degree coming down the pike from local minority groups, the police put in place an expansively draconian list of what neither side – NSM or counter-protesters – could bring to the rally. The list was later modified after the ACLU offered their assistance. The police later modified the list to make more reasonable accommodations of safety of all rally participants, while still balancing out First Amendment rights. Since the actual participation (or lack thereof) of the ACLU was not reported in the media, I am not going to discuss it here.

But, what I WILL discuss is that while a Kumbayah-singing crowd enjoyed in the socio-political ecumenical inclusiveness a couple of miles away, the NSM and its attending detractors stayed fearlessly on-topic. Ironically, some news reports noted that some participants in ‘the other rally’ observed to the media how their ancestors cam to America. So did mine. But, they both came LEGALLY, unlike those being supported by some today.

The NSM didn’t respond to the coincidence of the event and Kristallnacht. We did not overly chastise the worried city fathers and mothers for their administrative paranoia. But, we did tell the media, as well as those receptive or not to our message that illegal immigration is strangling America and many countries around the world.
And, the NSM was able to do this while remaining completely legal and dignified, unlike the counter-protesters who predictably looked like laughable manic bedlam. It doesn’t matter how they tried to overwhelm us, as we were heard.

So, as promised, here’s my perspective on the event: A respectable businessman who heads one of the world’s largest white civil rights groups in the United States (and perhaps the world) lead a rally in Kansas City, Missouri on Saturday, November 9, 2013.

Approximately 80 of Jeff Schoep’s National Socialist Movement ‘stormtroopers,’ party members, and supporters stood their ground against nearly two-to-three times their amount in spectators, media, and counter-protestors. City officials were perhaps needlessly worried about the event, and put varying degrees of roadblocks in its way.

However, even while concern for possible violence was added by the federal government, the NSM conducted the rally without violence erupting reactionarily to their passionate concerns voiced about illegal immigration.
Leadership of the party was recently invited to attend a historic event that was held in Los Angeles, California earlier. The meeting was billed as "A Conversation on Racial Equality," and was sponsored by a Black Civil Rights activist, James Stern. Party leadership was asked to attend and present the concerns from the pro-White perspective. Representing the Black interests was a panel of various activists that organize within the Black community as well as a public relations and policy adviser for the Black Congressional Caucus. Our host James Stern served as the moderator and facilitator.

I would like to emphasize the truly historic nature of this event, as it is the first time in almost half a century that National Socialist leadership has been asked to engage Black leadership and is the first event of its kind since Commander Rockwell was asked to speak at the Nation of Islam conference in the 1960's! Also significant was the fact that Black leadership sought us out, and not the leadership of other pro-White groups operating in America today. We were of course honored to be invited and more than willing to participate in a forum such as this where we had the opportunity to sit down with opposition leaders, and discuss issues in a calm and rational manner to see first hand for ourselves what each group was promoting, and try to find areas that we can work together to promote policies that will advance the best interests of our nation and our people.

Our host, Mr. Stern, was an extremely polite and gracious host and treated all of us with the utmost in respect, and did not engage in any form of name calling or attempts to slight us for our views, in spite of the fact that he clearly disagrees with us on a number of basic issues. His entire entourage was a very polite, and (pardon the inadvertent pun) colorful group in themselves, and at no time were we made to feel uncomfortable in any way.

It was somewhat of a change for us not to be the ones having the burden of making arrangements and finding venues and setting out security details, and we were more than happy to watch Mr. Stern have to deal with these types of logistical problems that we are all too familiar with. He did a great job overall and will be even more aware moving forward of what it is to engage the NSM publicly.

The morning of the event we picked up at the hotel by our host and his entourage, and we made our way to the selected venue which was an upscale restaurant in Beverly Hills. We had received intel that some Communist/Anarchist groups were planning on counter demonstrating against us. This of course is just another day in the office for us. but I do not think our hosts were expecting any issues and were a bit unprepared for what they were about to experience.
Almost as soon as we arrived smelly, unbathed, self-proclaimed Communists showed up with signs and a bull horn and began their usual mindless ravings on about ‘evil Nazi’s,’ fascists, etc. to which no one was paying any attention. It is ironic indeed that those that claim to represent free speech and equality on the Left seem to feel that you should only these rights if you agree with their views.

Several of the panel members from the Black entourage went outside and spoke to them, and it was quite funny to see these brainwashed liberals getting a tongue lashing from the panel members. They told them point-blank we were invited and that they did not need their help in defending their people, and that they were the ones standing in the way of progress -- not the NSM. There are a number of groups and individuals that are profiteering from and promoting a political agenda from the status quo, and it should be of note that it is the Left that was attempting to derail efforts at cooperation between our people.

We all moved inside, and began to attempt to proceed forward with talks but the anarchists began beating on the doors and windows of the establishment and conducting themselves with typical behavior of anarchists who stand only for chaos and lawlessness. The owner became concerned about his security and told us how hard it was for a Black man to get a business in this exclusive section and simply did not need the trouble so we out of respect for him agreed to relocate to another venue and attempt to defuse the situation. It was quite humorous in some ways as there were at most a dozen and a half protesters and they could have been easily driven off, but our hosts probably had no experience in dealing with these types and simply wished to avoid a confrontation.

We then entered the vehicles again and relocated to a different conference location and set about accomplishing what we came there to do. Our hosts quickly set up and we began in earnest to meet with the press and soon sat down to the table and begin discussions with the panel about various issues presented by members of the press as well as the panel themselves. Mr. Stern did a great job of moderating and keeping the responses and questions steered in the right direction.

Members from the pro Black side expressed concerns over many things, and presented us a solid set of observations and viewpoints. We countered with a number of indisputably documented facts and our own set of concerns. It was at times a spirited debate, but that was to be expected by groups who are in many ways diametrically opposed.

I honestly do not think they were prepared to meet such a level of opposition from us as our talking points are well laid out and well documented. While previous discussions have to many times been a case of Blacks talking at us instead to us, I think all went away with a new point of view that we entering a new phase in race relations in America. Thankfully, I believe we are witnessing the end of the era of White acquiescence to Black demands and they are starting to understand that there will be no meaningful progress without including the pro White groups in discussions.

Panel members came away with a new sense that we truly are a political and civil rights force and are a real departure from previous organizations and we have legitimate concerns that need to be addressed. We came away with a new found respect of our hosts for having the courage to engage us in spite of opposition within their own groups as well as hopefully making them understand that we have learned from their examples in organizing and leadership on behalf of our respective groups.

As we wrapped up the conference with some photos we had a chance to speak candidly off camera with panel members and discovered we really have a number of mutual areas that we can work cooperatively on. From the conference venue we moved into back to back live radio talk shows that were aired all across the greater Los Angeles area that went very well and again our side acquitted themselves well on the air and many went away with a different view than the perhaps pre-conceived notion of who we are and what we represent.

I would like to make it clear to all of our members and supporters that we in no way will sacrifice the basic principles that we stand on and seek no compromise with those that stand in the way of us achieving our stated goals of advancing the pro-White cause.

This conference opened a dialogue in a national level audience for us, and has allowed us to put forth our program to a huge listening base. The massive media exposure will only aid us in spreading our doctrine which will indeed have immediate short term benefits to all Americans regardless of race. The promotion of an America first policy is desperately needed and the immediate expulsion of the pro-globalist forces is a goal that all who love this nation can stand behind.

My thanks to our host and all who participated in this historic event on both sides of the issues and we look forward to engaging the Black leadership in the future and let us keep this momentum going in our search to find real solutions to the problems that face us as people and a Nation!

NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT CONDEMNS BRUTAL KILLING OF 12-YEAR-OLD WHITE GIRL FOR NOT BEING PROSECUTED AS ‘HATE CRIME’

Commander Jeff Schoep, leader of the National Socialist Movement (NSM – nsm88.org), along members and supporters across America and around the world, are condemning the brutal killing of Autumn Pasquale in October of 2012 for not being prosecuted as a ‘hate crime.’

According to published media reports, the 12-year-old Pasquale merely wanted to trade bike parts, but allegedly was killed by strangulation at the hands of 17-year-old Justin Robinson, also of New Jersey. Since then, his brother, Dante, has been released, and a deal towards a plea agreement of a lesser charge has apparently been discussed. Although Dante Robinson has not admitted to any crime, he has been accused of not giving truthful information to authorities.

However, for Justin Robinson who admitted to the aggravated manslaughter of Pasquale, mitigating issues are seeming to let justice slip through the hands of the judicial system. Prosecutors have said that because of Justin’s age and developmental disabilities, he would had been convicted of murder as a juvenile, and could have been paroled in as few as seven years.

“It’s an outrage,” exclaimed Commander Schoep. “Two young minority boys have varying roles in the horrific death of a white girl, yet NO ONE in their community has the fortitude to call it what it ironically is – a HATE CRIME against Autumn Pasquale, a young WHITE girl! Had this been two young white guys with shaved heads, the exact opposite conclusion would be drawn, and no one would have flinched!”

Opinion polls in the New Saxon (newsaxon.org) social media site and the NSM Forum (nsm88forum.com) unanimously support the conclusion that the murder was a hate crime.
WE DO NOT HATE OTHER RACES
BY KEVIN JAMES

We not HATE other races; we instead GREATLY PREFER our own. We also greatly prefer other races not beating up or attempting to take unethical advantage of whites. Those who try to force-feed rhetoric to the contrary might actually be afraid of losing their current position of perceived authority -- versus that of polite cooperation -- with whites.

It is not the Jews who really turn many of us off, so much as those Jews exhibiting the WORST STEREOTYPES of their kind -- especially when it is easily seen as being rather conspicuous, and especially when tenuous connections between less-than-moral and/or (previously accepted) traditional beliefs, attitudes and actions are being almost viciously maligned. Much of the same can be said of practically any race, including the 'trailer trash' of my own!

And, it's not the Hispanics we dislike either. We just prefer they would simply immigrate legally into America (without being extorted, often by out-of-control Mexican drug lords), stop abandoning their financially-challenged country (also an ethical conundrum), and stop trying to modify OUR laws to accommodate THEIR worldview. Oh, and we'd REALLY like them to wise up to the confusingly paradoxical (and unethical as hell) smokescreen put in place by politicians in Washington who want their votes as new citizens, but can't even correct the inefficiencies in current legal immigration procedures, policies and processes. I would imagine much of the same could be (and IS) said in Western Europe and Russia.

Gays are not on my list of appreciated persons, either. The 'legality' of behaviors which create varying degrees of conscious and sub-conscious mental distress in the majority of the world's population. By the way, the perception my most of us who are straight, is that gays are engaging in activities which the majority of us view as unconventional and not directly connected to historically-accepted customs and mores. It also feels too many of us as though 'your rights' are being forced into the realm of invading 'our rights. In addition, there is the perception of an almost tangible 'plan' to deprive straight-people of our peaceful freedom from emotional coercion and well as unmasked for discomfort, especially in this area.

Communists. Pathetically, yet almost amusingly passé! For anyone to align themselves with an economically and historically failed socio-economic process is as absurd as the young man who tried taking a 'video-selfie' too close to a passing freight train (http://www.youtube.com/channel/UC4AjVDHkVP133C8_T-O6eAw) and then lamented at being 'hit.' Doesn't logically follow, and looks somewhat disingenuous.

Not to be necessarily be speaking for the NSM (let alone be its 'tactful apologist'), but some actions are explainable, while others are almost inexplicable, or even tinged with the question of possible planned malefic. The feelings of pro-whites are becoming more wide-spread. Hopefully to reassure you, there are growing incidences in which there IS 'hope.'

Black comedian and entrepreneur, D.L. Hughley, inviting Commander Schoep to have as much 'face-time' on his 'J-infused,' Comedy Central special was very significant in an unexpected positive way. For select NSM command-staff to be invited to the Conversations on Race (in BEVERYLY HILLS, no less) was more 'intellectual,' but SYMBOLICALLY SIGNIFICANT.

But even more so (and in a curiously subtle way), what seems almost like a minor historical footnote of tangential importance, the American FBI formally distancing itself from the SPLC as one of its credible sources of 'information' on 'hate-crimes' was tantamount to a near PR disaster for the SPLC temporarily approaching that of the first magnitude!

I look at it this way, societal shifts in ANYTHING and how it is perceived by the public generally occur over time, and are powered by a series of seemingly unrelated events. Yet, when taken together, the masses DO look at these events and draw Refined ASSUMPTIONS.

People don't want to co-opt or even momentarily dilute their 'ego-strength' by admitting that they might have been wrong, lied to, and even manipulated. Take the muted backlash against President Obama for not providing "CHANGE" as he almost-hypnotically seemed to promise during his campaign. I think it will be the same for us in the NSM as well as other pro-white movements. But, 'change' WILL be motivated (and perhaps even come) by us. Just give it a little more time!
On April 25 & 26, 2014, members and supporters of the National Socialist Movement, from across the country and around the world, converged on Chattanooga, Tennessee for our annual national meeting and public rally. Although all of our meetings are historical, this one was of significant importance. This year, the National Socialist Movement is celebrating its' 40th year as a political party and White Civil Rights organization.

Prior to conducting the business of the meeting, guests were treated to a catered dinner and were afforded an opportunity to mingle with their comrades and meet new friends. Commander Jeff Schoep kicked off the meeting with a historical timeline of where the National Socialist Movement originated and where it has gone, up to the present day. Then, it was time to hand out rank promotions. Quite a few women have joined the ranks of the NSM and were patched in as full members.

At 2:30 pm on Saturday afternoon, a public rally was held on the steps of the Hamilton County Courthouse in downtown Chattanooga. After passing through the "TSA like" security gauntlet, members and supporters raised the NSM banner and waved flags, as the anarchists and Communists chanted nonsense and spewed profanities. A wide "buffer zone" of orange construction fencing was constructed by the police to keep opposing groups as far away, as possible. The various speakers talked about the economy, illegal immigration and the state of our nation. Viable solutions to many of our country's problems were offered for consideration.

Ironically, David Tulis, a Chattanooga radio show host wrote an opinion piece and said, "The story is so vital to the people of the town that only one side needs be told. And that side is that of the counter protest." The protesters carried on, but began losing steam, towards the end, and were forced to listen to our speeches. During the rally, several supporters from the Soul Survivors motorcycle organization made themselves known and joined us on the grounds of the courthouse, as well as a couple of our friends from the A.T.B. The local media stayed on the opposing side of the street, clearly demonstrating their bias and lack of objectivity.

Regardless of what we said, it was considered "hate." After the speeches were finished and all that was needed to be said, was said, we proceeded to exit the venue and returned to the hotel, where we mingled and enjoyed food and comradeship, well into Sunday morning. Plans are already in the works for our upcoming November rally in six short months.
NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT WELCOMES BLACK IRON MOTORCYCLE CLUB
BY SINISTER 1%ER, CAPTAIN, NSM BLACK IRON DIVISION

The NSM and the Black Iron MC are proud to announce the merging of Black Iron MC into the ranks of the NSM. This merge will create a new division within the NSM, the Black Iron Division. This will grant full membership in the NSM to current members of the Black Iron MC. By dissolving Black Iron MC to create the Black Iron Division, the NSM will expand its membership, influence, and visibility within the community. This is exciting news for the Party and its membership in general.

As the Leader of Black Iron, and lifetime member of the NSM, I am proud to be a part of this merger and expect very positive results for both the NSM, its members, and the NS community as a whole.

This division is open for all CURRENT NSM MEMBERS OR REGISTERED SUPPORTERS IN GOOD STANDING to join / transfer. Please feel free to contact the division if you have any questions about the division and its purpose, or to inquire about membership in the division. Again, this is a official division of the NSM and NOT a Motorcycle club nor does it function as a traditional MC.

I would like to thank the NSM and the Commander for giving us this opportunity, & allowing us to be a part of the largest active American National Socialist organization in the USA. We hope to meet and greet as many members as possible in the near future...great things lie ahead for the NSM, its members, and the Black Iron Division (nsmblackiron (at) gmail.com). Hail Victory! Hail Commander Schoep!
NSM RESPONSE TO FERGUSON RIOTS

The National Socialist Movement will not stand idle as white families, businesses, and homes are being attacked by marauding criminals. We have been contacted by numerous individuals in the Ferguson area asking for our support. We are currently weighing two options, either boots on the ground in the form of patrols within the City to provide protection and security for the citizens, or a public rally. We are currently awaiting further reports from our people on the ground there, and we should have men enroute to the city shortly.

As America’s premiere white civil rights organization, the National Socialist Movement stands in shock and disdain of the events going on in Ferguson, Missouri. Not only are area blacks fulfilling the stereotypical ‘worsts’ of their past culture. “This is NOT a ‘Trayvon Martin case,’” says NSM Commander Jeff Schoep, who adds that, “This is an experience in which a misguided community has overreacted, perhaps as much, or even MORE than have the police.

Anyone trying to draw that parallel between this event and Trayvon Martin is causing even more unrest whether they are aware of it or not!” Schoep represents NSM, an organization of socio-political interests for white civil rights, and is an outspoken figure in various other race-related issues. “If there's been an ‘injustice,” Schoep says, "it will be found out. Revisiting America’s 1960's by rioting and looting in your own town is NOT the answer. It's INSANE! Rational, public-spirited fact-finding is the ONLY answer. What's going on in Ferguson, Missouri is virtually akin to communist-incited ANARCHY,” added Schoep. “White people will NOT be victims of this random violence and rioting.

Take a stand with NSM Texas & Patriots from around the Nation. Rally against illegal immigration, and in defense of the American way of life. Speakers will include: Commander Jeff Schoep, Capt. Harry Hughes, Capt. Brian Culpepper, and many more to be announced. All known Patriots and respected allied Organizations are welcome to participate. After event with Swastika Lighting and complimentary bbq on private property. Those who would like to attend contact: M. Sgt. Smith, Region 7 Director, at: nsmregion7@gmail.com.
AMERICANS ARE REALLY STUPID
BY KEVIN JAMES

The citizens of the United States are really stupid. Even the country’s own politicians would agree with this statement to varying degrees, although they would say it ‘nicely.’

We were promised ‘change’ by the Obama Administration. Instead, Americans got a communistic health care ‘program’ that ended even minimal coverage for many, while forcing many more to pay much more in premiums for oftentimes much less in coverage. In essence, this ‘promise’ as an outright lie.

We were assured that America’s immigration laws, policies and procedures would be efficiently ‘reformed’ in such a way that there would be no ‘amnesty.’ Instead, Americans have continued to endure the almost meaningless bi-partisan political bickering that cowers to the illegal immigration crowd in a pandering for future votes based on the ‘dream’ of citizenship. This is an outright joke!

Yet, the American government continues to ignore America’s increasingly polluted food delivery chain, as well as exploration of renewable ‘clean’ energies, or even refocusing cyber-surveillance on the REAL criminals at home an abroad. These are not lies nor jokes, but tragedies...except possibly the ‘selfies’ taken and intercepted from German Chancellor Angela Merkel’s IPhone. I hear the photos are kind of ‘cute.’

But seriously, even the collective political cabinets of David Cameron and Vladimir Putin have more consistent focus and country-focused ethos than is found in America.

Personally, I hope and pray that the party leadership of the National Socialist Movement in America and all its related countries AROUND THE WORLD would put on ballots a National Socialist candidate for president, prime minister, czar...whatever!

Even now, the Democratic Party is beginning to trudge out the almost-predictable ‘usual suspects’ for the 2016 presidential campaign. Republicans are not much better, but they are spending time waffling on immigration issues.

It would be unrealistic to suggest a ‘landslide,’ or even a significant portion of the vote would be captured in any country by a National Socialist candidate for any significant leadership position at this time.

But, it WOULD tell EVERYONE that ‘notice has been given, and that the logical progression is that ‘business-as-usual’ will increasingly not be tolerated by the populace in America and around the globe.

The foe of the white people around the world is not entirely the Jews, the Mexicans, the Blacks, gypsies, tramps (and thieves), communists, Pakis, Arabs (or any ultraviolent Middle Eastern sect), the Chinese, or even (taken to the extreme) flamboyantly gay communistic Frenchmen.

The REAL problem is ANY person or group who/which systematically strives to demean the existence of ANY white person ANYWHERE! Ironically, many of those do tend to systematically converge against us, almost conveniently rally under the banner of one or more socio-ethnic groups. Except for the sake of convenience, this reality is relatively not here-nor-there.

Don’t worry, my fellow white comrades. I will not be incorporating gifelti fish and borsht with cream cheese into my diet. And, my constitution is too ‘Western-European’ to do anything but either RUN FROM or GET THE RUNS from excessively hot salsas! And I am STILL trying to figure out the allure of chicken-and-waffles.
Our State of Capitalism

By VikingWarsong

Democracy and capitalism have turned into utensils for the utmost wealthy and powerful to contain humanity in a state of irresponsibility. These philosophies glorify mass consumerism, addicting people they call free to known substances and idealism that are bad for health.

They establish ‘empires’ in what we used to call a ‘free state,’ saying that every man can move forward, but in reality it’s only the wealthy who move forward.

By merit, it should be the workers who are honored. Instead the ‘electric Jew’ (aka television) has brainwashed the masses into seeing thugs, rappers and actors as archetypes of demigods. The Jews hide in their lairs, enabling illegal immigration and passing legislation for the wholesale destruction of America. This is not the America ever known to anyone before us. This is the America of miscegenation, a place of rampant crime and gradual Marxist enculturation.

I have had several people suggest that there is nothing wrong with illegal immigrants. They tell me to put myself in their shoes, saying that I should “Imagine their position, they come here to help themselves, they come here to work and feed their families.”

The people saying this oftentimes view me as spiteful person, full of hate; all the while they sympathize and truly do think that Mexican immigrants deserve amnesty. People honestly believe that there will be no harm to our economy if we nationalize of millions of illegal immigrants. They even compare any suggestion of their deportation as being a modern-day Holocaust.

What this says to me America no longer has a backbone. We are becoming a spineless country, with no sense of self preservation in the fear of saying something politically incorrect. The fear that comes with being ‘politically incorrect’ is that of becoming an outcast of society. In all honesty, the mind-set of the American people is pushing us back away from civil liberty. Modern citizens are thinking that anti-illegal immigration views are racist.

There is a blanket effect going on, that has been here since Blacks won their civil rights. That was the slow death of the American White man. After that, it was only a matter of time before we started to become a minority. Demographers will agree; look all around you. White people are becoming a fast minority in all southern states. And now, it’s nearly impossible to not run into some one who doesn't speak English.

I have never seen such worse conditions than with in a city limits. Not just because of Blacks and Mexicans, but because of white people who are so deceived that they must almost think they are Black! How many other people than me walk on a sidewalk fearing that they might be stabbed by a thug needing drug money? Prostitution runs rampant on the streets. But people only laugh about this. No one takes it seriously that you hear of old men and women being beat for walking down a street, or that pornography is beginning to run a rampant path of moral destruction through America. It’s in the god-forsaken news! Yet people just shrug it off, like this is part of a natural way of living, like it is normal.

Is it really taking away the freedom of Americans to try to find a solution to the problem of domestic security? Seeing violent crimes happen everyday, typically with no one being arrested after the occurrence, maybe does drive the paranoia. One can view it in a different way though. People arrested for violent crimes end up back on the streets usually in just a couple of years. And most of them are not White.
Americans seem to be lost for hope, because there is little to no one taking a stand against our justice system. Even in the prisons, the prisoners enjoy luxuries that make no sense -- even if they are a murderer or a rapist.

And, they form their own sub-societies that we know as gangs, and have established well known criminal networks that not only exist inside the prisons but also sprawl onto our streets. If you watch television, you might notice that the media inadvertently glorifies gangs by giving them their own documentaries, and well-promoted episodes of television shows. It’s pathetic. It’s disgusting. And this degree of behavioral reinforcement should not be happening.

How is it the individual citizen is too scared or too weak to take a stand? Is it because the individual citizen only cares about himself? Does the individual citizen only care about his own survival, and the never ending lust of consuming?

I believe that white Americans should take a united stand against the conditions, and face the heads of evil plaguing our Nation.

We have lost patriotism. The masses embellish lust and greed, giving away our rights and mindset only to have the feeling to be apart of the already established evil. People are too afraid to step forward into a new dawn of goodness and light. Our capitalist emperors have addicted the average man to gluttony and self satisfaction. People would much rather play and finger an application with birds and pigs, watch television shows of rappers disgracing White women, or the rich and the famous who are only rich and famous because they have salacious ratings -- not because of their inherent merit, and not because of any demonstrable hard work. People should be glorifying the farmer, the soldier and the steel worker. How long will the Jew pull his puppet strings? Maybe until we turn off the tube, and silence the machine.
"Americanization is what you need! Put the Swastika away! Our young people can never be as disciplined as their German counterparts! Be a little more flexible! That was the nineteen twenties! They care more about IPhones and Xboxes, than their Race!" These are just some of what I hear and read from critics about us loyal, devout, 'throw back' National Socialists. Am I expecting too much from the upcoming crop of NS'ers? Or are the critics right?

The young Aryan man reading this right now; it's impossible for you to shed blood for this Cause? Live up to the 14 words? Or to stand fast in the face of growing danger? Or simply pay your Party's dues on time? I don't believe it. Not for one damn minute! Its this watered down, dumbing down of our society, promoting the weak, giving everyone an award mentality that has our Movement and the whole country falling to pieces like a cheap, Chinese made paper doll. I don't want you to simply man up; I want you to Hitler up!

The first grave mistake was not recognizing that what the Fuhrer started has matured and evolved into something bigger and profound than originally thought. His creation has transformed into a deeper understanding of our Aryan brotherhood. We must shed the rotting skin that has kept us in the old, tired actions of being just another political arm in a world of cluttered governing bodies. We must embrace the realization that National Socialism is, was, and should be the only answer for every responsible, common sense White Man.

Because if we don't, we fall into the same traps that have wounded, gobbled up, and ended other political entities. I'm sure the Whigs, Free Soil Party, and The Federalists believed their heydays would never cease either. After all, they had solid platforms and the country's ear. But they failed to grasp that if a man takes more than just an oath, if his every waking moment, every heart beat, comes from a place of Devotion and Love; he begins to view his promise to the organization as more of a sacred vow to a church. Built on those two principles; the NSM is that organization! And more to the point, that man and that organization become something much harder to defeat…to marginalize.

I know the NSM is the right choice. If we want OUR people to have that secure and unconquerable future we all fight for - now is the time. So reopen Mein Kampf, maybe for the first time in a long time and come to the understanding that what you're reading still applies today. Go to the website www.nsm88.org and find out for yourself. There are rallies, news updates, interviews, photos, and much more. You don't have to be just a hero in video games anymore. You can be a real hero, in real life, to your Race.

And when you do join, you become much more than a foot soldier. More than a member. More than just a lonely face at your job or school. You become a man that can break any and all chains that have kept you back. Join me. Join this unequaled Movement. You'll leave all the fools behind as they debate the latest trends in Republican and Democratic made 'news'. You'll have a stable rock to which to stand on that can weather any attack and carry any weight. Let’s all meet on that rock and scream at the naysayers, we will not change to modernize, or bend, or manipulate our principles for the sake of the outside world. Or to gain a Facebook or Twitter 'Like' from this godless world. We shall romantically and smartly cling to the Germanic roots that have led us here.

For it’s our enemies that bend, break, and sabotage rules for their own needs, NOT US. And while we gather on Our Rock, I'll be searching the horizon for you to come help me keep the flag waving and the fire burning.
1) The duty to HONOR

You're an Aryan. Nobody needs to explain Honor to you in detail. It's in the blood of our people. It's an innate sense of right vs. wrong - justice vs. injustice - that tells us when we have done wrong or been wronged, and how we should correct that injustice. Honor can't always be reasoned or explained, but if a man or woman has true Honor, they will have all the other points in this list. The first duty of an Aryan is always to Honor, because everything we National Socialists believe in - including National Socialism itself - arises directly or indirectly from adherence to the blood-principles of Honor.

2) The duty to TRUTH

Truth should always be spelled with a capital T when talking about the kind of Truth we are sworn to uphold. As a National Socialist, you have a supreme duty to Truth. Truth is simply what we National Socialists have discovered and know about the way the world works, the meaning of life, and the kind of society we stand for that functions along those bounds. Your duty to Truth means that you will always stand up for what's right, no matter who condemns you or how loudly they do so. Your duty to Truth means that when someone wants to know about National Socialist belief, your answer must be true and faithful to NS doctrine - which means it is true and faithful to Truth - that is, the Truth about the world.

3) The duty to NOBILITY

As National Socialists, we're trying to build a better world. We want our children and our comrades' children to grow up in a better world than we did. But what do we want from our society? As National Socialists, we ALWAYS demand nothing less than the best. Our ideal society would have no crime, no poverty, no social problems at all. It's a lofty goal, but if we weren't reaching for the best, we wouldn't be NS. As a National Socialist, it is your duty to do your part to bring about this society as fast as possible, and that change starts with YOU! This could be something as simple as being friendlier to strangers than you have been. This definitely includes not contributing to the crime rate or hurting the innocent. Today is the day we start building that perfect world where everyone is friendly and kind, and children can walk down dark streets in the dead of night without a risk in the world. The simplest way to adhere to this duty is just to ask yourself "what kind of person do I like to deal with?" and then be that person.

4) The duty to VICTORY

If you're a National Socialist, this is something that probably comes into your mind at least 10 times a day. It's not news to anyone that NS is a revolutionary ideology focused on changing the very foundations of the world we live in. We are warriors at heart, and warriors we must be. All National Socialists have a duty to do all they can to bring about a new National Socialist state as quickly as humanly possible. If you want to be a National Socialist, you have to accept that you are inviting the wrath and hatred of 99% of the planet to save 8% of the planet, 90% of whom don't want to be saved. You have to prepare yourself mentally for death at any moment, because a lot of people want to kill you. But our race doesn't let a little thing like death get in the way of what it wants to accomplish. It never has, and this would be a poor time to start. So as an NS, spread the message in whatever way you can, and "do right and fear no one."
5) The duty to UNITY

This is last but it's definitely not least. This is something most nationalists know and practice by heart, but it deserves a place here. Your comrades are not just people you fight beside - they are your brothers and your sisters. Under point 3, you were told to be an amiable person in general to start the work now to bring about a polite and noble society. Under this point, you have a duty to be thrice that to your NS comrades. When a comrade is in trouble, we help. When a comrade is introduced to us, we are welcoming. When a comrade falls, we honor them. When we disagree with a comrade, we do it with nobility and honor, and do not EVER let minor disagreements stand in the way of our NS Unity. We live as one, we fight as one, and we die as one.

HAIL VICTORY!
Despite the fact that I have been a violent National Socialist skinhead and most of my posts are profanity-laced rants, I have a great sense of humor and love to laugh. If you can’t laugh at life, you are doomed to an existence of bitterness and anger. I am an expert on hatred and anger. It can consume you and make your life not worth living. I make it a rule to laugh my ass off at least once a day. It keeps you healthy and sane, I think.

There is an old Viking legend that says it was a mark of honor and courage if a warrior died laughing or with a jest on his lips. I like that. Life is short, brutal and often unfair. So to die laughing at death is spitting in death's face and is proof of a courageous heart. This pleases me. We are all going to die, but let's do so with some flair- and when we die, our enemies will hear our laughter. Be bold, be courageous and when your time comes, laugh like you mean it and dive into battle. There is another world after this one. I love that mentality. There is so little to look forward to these days. But we can look forward to an honorable death. Have courage and be strong. In the interim, we can laugh and give it all we have. THIS is honorable, even if we fail.

COMPUTER SECURITY

Granted, the NSA can spy on the NSM all they want, and they won’t find ANYTHING illegal. Not because we’re hiding anything, but because we simply aren’t DOING anything illegal…and if we were, I would surely know about it! But, why would I bother with such a provocative assertion?

From time to time in any controversial (and misunderstood) organization, individuals are planted inside to gather information, confuse details, and disrupt progress. It’s been said that any group worth its ‘street-cred’ will have its share of interlopers and other intruders.

And while suggesting that everyone reading this update their spyware and antivirus programs and run them may seem somewhat paranoic, try to brush away such prudent precautions to the database administrators of Target Stores! You may remember that a teenager from half-way across the globe hacked into their systems and stole tons of personal credit data this past holiday season.

Working in the consumer-end of the internet industrial complex, I can tell you that there are over 85-million POTENTIAL ways for your computer (and the data residing therein) to be HACKED. And while we cannot fully and successfully intercede from overzealous government agencies (or incorrigibly bad youthful hacks) from coming in beyond our firewalls, we can do what we can prudently do.

Every organization of note has standing suggestions to keep the electronic data of its constituents as safe as possible. This also includes procedures in the case of suspected attacks or penetrations -- just like the old TV show, Mission Impossible.

While I am NOT suggesting that either eventuality has occurred, I AM suggesting that EVERYONE reading this prudently check their system for any irregularities. In fact, there are some two excellent standard practices you might want to employ.

First, turn off your computer when it is not in use and/or you are not available to monitor it. Not only does this comply with the ‘green’ focus of national socialism by saving electrical energy (and your hard-earned money), but it also will help the second important focus.

Secondly, if you see the activity light on your computer’s drive flashing quickly and/or constantly, especially while you are not doing much of anything on the computer, this could indicate suspicious activity. This could include a Trojan, worm, keylogger, or other malware being installed on your computer. It could also indicate that such already-installed software is communicating with its host computer.

If you need ideas for programs to keep your system running clean, try:
--Advanced System Care
--Emsisoft Antimalware

Also, here are some other good practices:
--Don’t open attachments from people you don’t know OR don’t expect to be receiving anything
--If you receive a communication by email that somehow SEEMS suspicious, first respond by asking a ‘challenge question’ that only they would know BEFORE you continue
--Do NOT put information on ANY social media website that gives information that could help people figure out any passwords used on the internet. In fact, with passwords, it’s best to use a series of letters and numbers that only make sense to YOU.
NSM Media is making available a free online course, entitled, Basic Journalism. The goal of the class is to provide anyone taking it (and successfully passing the final exam) a certificate of Journalism Basics. Covered will be readings from:

- Journalism Basics

- The Elements of Style, by William Strunk, Jr.

- Newspaper and Magazine Writing

  http://www.writerswrite.com/journal/nov01/burch.htm

- Copyright Issues

- Public Relations

- Propaganda

Anyone completing the self-paced reading assignments by reading and/or skimming through the prescribed reading list will be able to take the free online assessment, which will include a certificate for a passing grade once submitted to nsmmedia@nsm88.org for grading. Of course, all NSM Media personnel are recommended to take the course and the open book assessment! And to help you out (and because it’s ‘open book’), here’s the quiz:

The main keys of public relations are to:

a) Reinforce positive perceptions of the product, service or organization among existing, new, and potential users, especially during times of ‘crisis’

b) Promote positive perceptions of the product, service or organization among internal and external publics

b) Show whatever they are written about in a positive light

c) Both of the above

Do you LAY something down, or lie something down? (one point off if you’re smirking)

a) Lay

c) Either is acceptable
If 60 Minutes shows up at your front door and asks you, “How long have you been beating your spouse,” this is called a/an:
   a) Unmediated meeting
   b) Abuse of power
   c) Ambush interview

Newspaper writing and magazine writing are different, in that:
   a) Magazine writing is more factual, while newspapers are more conversational
   b) Magazine writing uses a factual inverted pyramid
   c) Newspaper writing is more factual (but sometimes personal, especially in opinion pieces), while magazines are more conversational

In journalism, an ‘inverted pyramid’ is:
   a) A building which is structurally difficult to construct without supports
   b) A style of (primarily) newspaper writing in which the most important elements of the story are written first.
   c) A type of thinking in which the logical conclusion comes last in an essay

Dr. Hunter S. Thompson and George Plimpton were writers who placed themselves directly in their stories, often as the center of attention. This is called:
   a) An abuse of journalistic privilege
   b) Participatory journalism
   c) Unethical

   b) One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten
   c) Naming them by words is preferred, but using the actual numbers can be used for space and a few other reasons

Sampling’ in pop songs can get around potential legal penalties with:
   a) The claim that the amount of music sampled is so small that it will not impact sales of the sampled song
   b) The claim that the sampled element is different enough from that of the sampled song the two will not be confused
   c) When the sample is part of a parody or satire Words and phrases like, “seems,” “might be,” tends to indicate,” and “could mean that,” are all examples of:
   a) Illegal phrasing
   b) Weasel words
   c) Garden-pathing

Public relations firms/departments can have the following audiences:
   a) Internal (in the company or organization only)
   b) External (outside news media, government bodies, etc.)
   c) Both internal and external audiences

When quoting a quote-within-a-quote, it’s best to use:
   a) Double quotation marks at the beginning and end, and single quotation marks for internal quotes
   b) Single quotation marks at the beginning and end, and double quotation marks for internal quotes
   c) Double quotation marks at the beginning and end, and double quotation marks for internal quotes

Public persons can sue for invasion of privacy if there is demonstrable:
   a) Telephoto lenses in photographers’ cameras
   b) Unfair writing
   c) Malice

When they are doing something, it can be said that:
   a) “They is doing something”
   b) “Theyre doing something.”
   c) ”They’re doing something.”

If you are a person who is in the public eye, but only for one area of expertise or endeavor, you are legally called:

   b) Magazines
   c) Radio talk shows

Limited-purpose public figures can sue for invasion of privacy if:
   a) The alleged invasion of privacy concerned matters beyond the scope of their public persona
   b) The alleged invasion of privacy contained unflattering facts which, if exposed, would make a reasonable person think negatively of the public figure
   c) Either of the above
If you use in an audio or video production someone else’s work without their permission, you could face:

- Fines from the FBI for pirating, plus a civil lawsuit from the copyright holder
- Various penalties, unless you can demonstrate ‘fair use’
- Absolutely nothing negative

If you are told that “everyone is using product ‘x,’ and you should, too!”, what type of propaganda appeal is being used?

- Bandwagon
- Fear
- Subversion

Copyright laws have been created to:

- Reduce ‘artistic idea theft’
- Reduce the amount of potential monetary loss (and artistic control) in the unauthorized use of creative works
- Both of the above

What is ‘public domain,’ aka FREELY USABLE?

- Any work that is no longer under copyright protection
- Works that have failed to meet copyright protection, or have been donated to the public domain by the original author(s)
- Either of the above

EIGHT POINTS (ESSAY)

You are the public relations specialist with Pacific Gas and Electric. A disgruntled shift supervisor named, Jack, took the control room staff of the Venicia Nuclear Power Plant hostage. A local police SWAT team stormed the control room of the plant, and shot Jack as he was attempting to reach for some controls on a nearby panel. Unfortunately, Jack died. Although the plant suffered some damage from an unsteady valve mechanism that Jack had his suspicions to the press earlier, the plant’s automated computer control system shut the plant down with a minimum amount of structural damage, and not release of radiation or loss of life. You are now outside the plant in front of the press. In five sentences or less, write a statement that you will deliver live.

NSM88 FORUM
Like most of you, I have a life and job that are separate from the NSM. I am NOT a public person, nor even a limited-figure public person. The fact that I use the moniker of ‘Kevin James’ is enough to prove my intent of such. However, I will not give up the creative thrill I get in bringing our message mainstream to more people. And while my separation of my public self and private self has no bearing on my conviction, it’s not an easy path to tread upon occasion. But reading though this issue as our staff developed it for the past couple of months or so, I couldn’t help become amazed and even inspired by the narratives and convictions of those who wrote what you have likely just read.

I couldn’t help imagining Commander Schoep as a young man of 18 or so, who actually worked with some of this cause’s most interesting leaders, and has now become one of the movement’s most visible leaders in his own right. I read the rally reports and thought back to the emails, phone calls and texts I received during their progress. I oftentimes wish I had been there! My mind still reels with the fact that the NSM was invited to one of the National Conversations on Race to be a participant, and that whites are still harmed – their voices quieted forever -- around the world.

As some of you may have wondered, and on behalf of NSM Media, I personally apologize for such, this issue has come to you somewhat late. We had envisioned having another issue of this magazine to precede it. But, so much daily media minutia often got in the way. But, again, as you have quite likely found out, NSM Magazine is here.

But the even more important story is not the relative business of NSM Media, but rather that the politicians around the world are (as Commander Schoep says), “Selling us down the river!” Illegal immigration is now becoming cleverly phrased as a ‘humanitarian’ issue. In reality, this continuing act is a quasi-government-sanctioned invasion AND a dilution of our indigenous white cultures. Only, the politicians will try to keep you from thinking that, because if Americans and Western Europeans were to become as ‘racially aware’ (legally so, of course) as our cousins in Greece and Russia, the philosophical glasshouses of businesses and politicians who benefit from this infiltration would shatter in a matter of months.

However, one thing that WON’T shatter is the conviction by everyone in the National Socialist Movement (whether on a motorcycle or not), that the existence of white people cannot and should not be extinguished at near-whim of politicos, and visible greed of commerce. In the meantime, NSM Media and NSM Magazine will be here to spread the word to all who can read, listen, and see!
